How can an ad on the air, that you hear for only 10 seconds, compare with an ad that you can see for anywhere up to seven days?

It can't. This space represents your radio ad that wasn't heard because —

Have you ever tried referring back to a radio ad? — It's impossible. You know that your weekly newspaper goes into approximately 80% of the homes and is read — because it's whole content is about its own community.

There is no other way to reach so many shoppers effectively. After all, they pay regularly to read the paper. Who ever heard of paying to listen to a radio station?

Man Develops His World

Seeing is believing. We saw and believed, but it is almost impossible for anyone after reading about it, being told about it, having it described, to really understand the magnitude of the Athabasca tar sands, their scope and the Great Canadian Oil Sands plant at Fort McMurray without having first seen it and been given a cook's tour of the whole operation along with explanations.

We were fortunate to be among a group of some 200 newspaper men, radio and TV people, guests from GCOS last week-end for a preview of the oil sands before its official opening by Premier E. C. Manning of Alberta.

There was no shortage of speakers including company presidents, government officials who extolled the value of the new plant, what it will mean to the economy of Alberta and of Canada, how it will affect the petroleum industry and perhaps change its entire complexion.

Tribute was paid to the ingenuity of man who made it possible, how it could only be accomplished by full scale co-operation of the oil industry with the government of the Province of Alberta, all of which was undeniably true and proved man's ability in developing his world, surmounting some of the most complicated problems nature has forced him with.

The Athabasca tar sands have been teasing the curiosity of man for over 200 years since the first time an explorer by the name of Peter Pond discovered them and found Indians using the thick substance as waterproof for their canoes. Sir Alexander Macnab, on his way to the Pacific Coast also recorded their presence in his diary. The Geological Survey of Canada made its first drilling test of the sands in 1897. Finding a practical and economical way of tapping this enormous reserve occupied the minds of man for many years.

The hot water process used by GCOS was successfully demonstrated on a small scale in the 1940's under the sponsorship of the Alberta Government with Dr. Karl A. Clark. In 1962 GCOS received permission from the Alberta Oil and Gas Conservation Board to construct a 31,500 barrel-per-day mining and extraction operation based on the process. Subsequently the quota was raised to 45,000 barrels. Finally the project was approved in 1964.

From that time on the ingenuity of man was tested as GCOS pioneered what is described as the first such venture in the world on a large scale. The eyes of every country, of the entire petroleum industry is watching them. Although the process of extraction has been proven theoretically to work in the laboratories, it has yet to prove itself on the field. Company engineers and officials will be watching every detail of the operation for the next few months to determine if their investment has been sound.

Although they gave us a reasonably confident, no optimistic outlook its expressed.

The Great Canadian project has already had a great impact on the economy of Fort McMurray and indeed of all of Alberta.

Employment at the plant and in the offices totals approximately 450. A fluctuating number of contract maintenance and services personnel will represent an average of some 250 additional people per year.

Payroll costs (including fringe benefits) for the plant operating and maintenance people are estimated to be approximately $6,000,000 annually.

As the peak of construction in mid-1966, about 2,300 people were employed on the project.

The increase in population for the sparsely settled area has been dramatic. Fort McMurray has jumped from 1,200 people in 1954 to almost 4,000 in mid-1967.

The total direct impact on the Alberta economy will be about $1.6 billion annually, including payroll, taxes and royalties.

Indirectly, as some Fort McMurray and Alberta leaders have pointed out, a new project of this size will give rise to new and expanded business and services ranging from air transportation and barbering through schools and waterworks.

MAN DEVELOPS HIS WORLD AT TAR SAND OIL RECOVERY OPENING

Great Canadian Oil Sands of Fort McMurray used a steady and appropriate slogan for the opening of their tar sand oil recovery operation last week. "Man Develops His World" is an understatement by the company who planned the development for 7 years and took time to build the massive plant on the banks of the Athabasca 35 miles from McMurray. The main in the background features the huge bucket wheel which digests the tar sands and the crushing rig in the extraction operation. The final table at the opening with the digester, flanked by a battery of TV, radio and newsprint present to cover the historic event.

The President of the Province of Alberta, Mr. J. R. Manning, was the guest of honor at the opening ceremony. He was accompanied by the Premier of Alberta, Mr. J. R. Manning, and the Minister of Energy, Mr. J. R. Manning. The ceremony was held at the Great Canadian Oil Sands plant, which is located on the banks of the Athabasca River, 35 miles from McMurray. The plant is a massive structure, built over a period of seven years, and it is the largest of its kind in the world. It is designed to process 45,000 barrels of tar sand oil per day, and it is expected to be one of the most important industrial facilities in the province.

TAR SAND BUCKET WHEEL EXCAVATOR 12 STORIES HIGH

Paid view of bucket wheel excavator being used by Great Canadian Oil Sands to extract oil from the tar sands on the banks of the Athabasca River near Fort McMurray. Made in Germany and delivered in sections, it was assembled on site. From the bottom tier of the interstellar crawler, driven by the top of its bucket wheel, it is some 100 feet high. And from the tip of the 30-foot-diameter digger wheel is the far end of the discharge house it operates 110 feet in length. Wright in 1966 tons. Machine used to produce tar sand oil. It is the largest of its kind in the world.

The significance of the occasion of the official opening of the Athabasca tar sands bucket wheel excavator is that it marks the beginning of a new era in the development of the tar sands. In many cases, it's the part of an arthritis a little ear, when even unbearable. It may be minor or a burden or a pain.

When a horse has a bursitis, it's a pain in the joint. It's a swelling of the bursa, a fluid-filled sac that cushions the joint. It's a common problem in horses, especially in the hocks and knees. It can be caused by trauma, infection, or chronic inflammation. The pain is usually localized to the joint and can be severe. Treatment includes rest, anti-inflammatory drugs, and sometimes surgery.

STANDS ON GOOD PAST RECORD

MARCEL A. BELZIL

Veteran of nine years of service to farm community, Mr. Belzil seeks re-election for another term of office.

Well known in the town and district Mr. Belzil has devoted a lot of time to farm administration in the past nine years and will continue doing the same in the future if re-elected.

Marcel has been very active in community organizations, through the years, being a past Jayco Vice President, Director of the Agricultural Society for many years, and an active member of many other local organizations. He has served as director of the Alberta Hatching Association and is presently director of the Turkey Growers Marketing Board for the Province of Alberta.

Our lives needs strong and able leaders.

For Social, Progressive Administration, Re-elect Marcel A. Belzil on October 10th.

On excellent record on administration cinque.

M. Belzil qui a déjà servi comme conseiller de cette ville pendant les neuf dernières années, se présente pour une autre mandature.

OUT OF FRONT PAGE CHALLENGE

Condon Macdonald, author, columnist, radio personality, lives up to his cryptic personality whether he is on or off the air. This picture of him was taken by the Editor of the St. Paul Journal while on a tour of Fort McMurray in the company of the editor of Great Canadian Oil Sands for coal oil recovery operation. The cigar, the lens and the perpetual smile he wears always a part of him, having no doubt in his country.

Wheat Price

The federal government's promise to plant a flour price under wheat has been met by the P.A. President, Paul A. Belzil, as an "empty prophecy". It is a sad commentary on the P.A. President's promise to the wheat growers that the wheat price will be raised to $1.00 per bushel. The P.A. POTTY FOR YOUTH

Paul A. Belzil is currently engaged with St. Paul's lack of a toilet facility for youth and family. He has many of us to help him. But the Centre could be much more than a crutch and occasional support. It is a place to provide a permanent of youth and self-organized recreational activities. It is a place where youth can meet, play, and have fun. It is a place where youth can meet, play, and have fun. It is a place where youth can meet, play, and have fun.

Fire Hazards On Alberta Farms

HOW FIRE-SAFE IS YOUR HOME?

Last year Canadians ran up an staggering fire loss of over 133 million dollars. Terrible as this property loss is, the worst of them is the loss of lives. In 1946 a result of fire—

Three-quarters of all fire deaths occurred in the home. It is almost all the time!

OPEN HOUSE AT FIRE HALL

Ready to open house for the citizens of St. Paul who wanted to find out what fire department did. The results are an integral part of the operation of the brigade and have to do with the public looking at pictures and seeing how the department works. The fire department. Most of these were taken and compiled by Robert Drayton, a fireman who has been on the volunteer department since early after the second World War.

Sentinel
automatic dusk-to-dawn light guards against

...and eases after-dark chores, too.

Faced cattle move more readily to well-lit troughs and thus gain weight faster. Poultry are safe from predators. With paths and yards lighted, after-dark chores are easier and your family runs less risk of costly accidents. A Sentinel will floodlight your farm's walks, grounds and outbuildings whenever you even having to snap a switch. An electric eye turns the Sentinel light on at dusk and off at dawn—automatically.

YES THE SENTINEL COSTS VERY LITTLE.

Worthy Of A Proud Heritage

Reverend Henry Bird Steinhauer described as an Indian pioneer and apostle of the west would have been proud at the tribute paid to him last Sunday when a vast replica of his life was presented to his family for preservation in the Saddle Lake United Church for posterity.

Recognition of the full impact of a lifetime's work is not necessarily the motivation that dedicated the lives of men like Reverend Steinhauer, but it is just as fitting that their contribution to today's society be recognized.

Reverend Steinhauer, no doubt would have been more proud and pleased that his strong pioneer character continued to be a heritage to members of his family who followed him and are conscientiously in another era, with perhaps different problems and approaches, trying to improve and better the lot of their society within the confines of their own reserves and outside the community.

Was he in the world today he would most certainly give his blessing to Ralph Steinhauer who was one of the few Canadians to be awarded the new Order of Canada Medal, is Indian Chief in his own right at Saddle Lake and taken the leadership in many community developments. There is Eugene Steinhauer, director of the first Indian program now being broadcast from CKUA, Mike who is the editor of the Saddle Lake Smoke Signal, porchard for 25 Steinhauer who at 85 maintains all the traditions of his race with the stoic complex of the wise old Indian Chief, and all the other members of the family who have proved themselves to be true Canadian Citizens.

The sculptor of the bust of Reverend Steinhauer, John Redbird is another Indian who follows the footsteps of the pioneer Indian. His skill with his hands and his imagination at arts and crafts are a natural ability handed down through the centuries. Today he is an lon on Ontario to the Alberta Arts and Crafts as consulting advisor.

Mr. Redbird has designed a new set of playing cards. Instead of the conventional king, one finds an Indian Chief, the queen naturally is a beautiful and pretty Indian maiden and the Jack is a stoic Indian warrior. When he was asked what the joker looked like, he replied jokingly, "A scalped White Man". He didn't go that far and will keep it to conventional form along with the other cards in the deck. The new deck of cards has a great interest and arrangements have been made to manufacture them commercially. Already there are orders for hundreds of them.

These people recognized the plight the Canadian Indian finds himself today. They are conscious of the problems that exist and are striving every day to find solutions to them. Probably the largest influence they have and the proof of their sincerity lies in their honest way of life which is improving the Indian image and showing the rest of the world that there are many good and fine Indians in our midst.

Who Pays Expo Bini?

Before the trade has settled on the Expo site after the finale this week-end, government officials in Ottawa, Quebec City and Montreal will be gearing up for what promises to be a monumental wrangle over who pays what—and to whom.

Final deficit for the big party is expected to be at least $200 million. Quebec owes Ottawa at least $75 million and Montreal owes at least $25 million.

Arguments may well be made that all or part of Montreal's debt and Quebec's debt should be forgiven on the grounds that Expo's stunning success served all Canada. Therefore, all Canadians should pay. But with Ottawa's anti-inflation drive such a move might not now be welcome.

FOUR GENERATIONS OF STEINHAUERS

The Poppy - Flower Of Remembrance

On November the 11th, Canadians all across the country will stop and remember the men who were killed in wars. There will be parades to memorialize in some 2,000 cities, towns and villages. Then everybody will stand in silence as they remember the more than 104,000 brave Canadians who were killed.

That is why November the 11th is called Remembrance Day.

On that day everybody wears a poppy, a reminder of the blood-flow which grew in the field where many of these men died. Much of the fighting was done in a place called Flanders. This was during the war of 1914-1918. Every spring, the soldiers fighting in the trenches noticed the red flowers blooming on the battlefields. And as more and more of their friends were killed, the soldiers noticed that the poppies bloomed over the graves.

When the war was over and when the soldiers came home, they still thought of the graves, they thought of poppies which grew around the graves. Then the men who came back from the war decided to wear a poppy each year to show that they still remembered their friends.

November the 11th was the day on which the fighting stopped in 1918. The men who were killed in the war picked that day each year to wear a poppy. Other people who had not been in the war, but who loved the soldiers who had been killed, also wanted to show that they remembered the dead. So they also wore a poppy.

First Poppies

There were not enough real poppies to go around. Then some of the men who were wounded, and couldn't work as other jobs, began to make poppies out of cloth. That is why today everybody wears a poppy which is not a real flower but which reminds us of the flowers which grew over the graves of the men who died.

For many years after the first war, children stood with their parents on Remembrance Day. Everybody was silent, and everybody wore a poppy and they all thought hard about the men who were killed.

By the time many of the children grew up, there was another war. The boys who were young men went to war. Many of them went to the same places as the men they used to remember. In the fighting in those places, a lot of young men died.

When the second war was over, more people than ever wanted to wear a poppy; now there were more dead soldiers than ever to remember. There were also sailors and airmen. All of these people went to war to protect Canada. They went to war to protect the people who were in Canada then, and also the people who would be born in the future - people like yourselves.

They died so that you could enjoy all the good things in your life. They died so that your home would be safe, so that you would be given a chance of going to school and going to the church of your choice. They also died so that you could make friends with whomever you please.

So perhaps you didn't know these men who died in war. But they knew you. They wanted you to live in peace.

Therefore on Remembrance Day, when everybody wears a poppy and stands in silence it is like "thank you" to those who died for us.

A Look Into The Past

BY PETER VAITUKUMAS

Photographic record of the progress of St. Paul and district is being presented to you from time to time by Peter Vaitukumas. Photo taken on a weekend project. To make this weekend project a success, we have to depend on several factors. On the right we can identify historic, scenic, historic, health, recreation, religious, town, village or located in and or being done in. Your pictures will be included again.

St. Paul in 1925 had much wider streets than today with narrow sidewalks and no parking problem. The reason, lots of room and not very many cars. This left the police happy and just from which a one-man St. Paul Police force was born. The police force which today has been moved and is still in use as a shop repair shop or a residence of Mr. St. Paul. Edmund Hall's blacksmith shop which grew to be the St. Paul Foundry.

Dechaune-Lindseth Exchange Vows

On October 28th, the marriage of Collette Anne Dechaune and John Paul Lindseth was celebrated in St. Paul, Alberta. The bride, Collette Anne Dechaune, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Dechaune, 100 St. Paul, was married to John Paul Lindseth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Lindseth, 100 St. Paul.

Your Treasury Branch has a better Savings Plan

Now, your Treasury Branch helps you set your money to work in the way that suits you best. Take your pick of these three straightforward plans:

6% 1-to-5 Year Term Saving Certificates

These are the best. On a minimum investment of $1.00 for any term from one to five years, your Treasury Branch pays you 6% per annum. Don't miss this opportunity!

1-to-5 Year Term Saving Certificates

Deposit $500 or more for whatever period you wish from one to five years, and your money immediately starts earning 5 1/2% per annum.

4 1/2% Regular Savings Accounts

Deposit as much as you wish, either at all times or when it's convenient. Interest at the rate of 4 1/2%, calculated on your minimum monthly balance is added to your account every year. Withdraw as much as you need, when you need it. You can cash them in at any time without incurring any loss.

All of these plans give you complete flexibility. You can stop or change your plan at any time. Your Treasury Branch can be redeposited before maturity at any time after the first maturity date. If you withdraw before maturity, you get whatever interest has been earned up to the date of withdrawal. Or, you can leave your money in the plan until the full term, when you get the full interest and principal. Your Treasury Branch will help you pick the plan that's best for you.

Senior Hockey Returns

A brand new summer hockey team under a new name is scheduled to hit the ice later this season after an absence of almost two years from the Eastern Alberta Hockey League.

But they are not going into their former league which has collapsed and is out of business this year. Reports from outside indicate that Vegreville dropped out of the Eastern Alberta Hockey League. Vermilion followed and Wainwright who were prospects to bolster it up have said no they rod is okay with P. Paul, for the love of all of your comrades who came upon your best friend's lovely Lachrymose. We go to the exhibition first.

The window for the P. Paul house is the Ruchard. The window has been taken by Van Brumm, a veteran hockey player and former professional ice hockey player, who is a member of the National Hockey League (NHL) and is a hockey player with the New York Rangers.

The window is not published in another source. P. Paul plays his first game at Ruchard on the 10th of December. The match home game is scheduled for the 11th of December. The match is scheduled for the 11th with the CFL.

BUCKS DIE AFTER CLASH

Two beautiful big bucks any hunter would have been delighted to shoot were found dead with their horns interlocked, by game warden. Apparently the two animals got tangled up in a mortal combat which neither won. They were found near Truman road shape and it is estimated they had not been dead too long. One weighed 272 pounds and the other 223. Karl Rankovitch, local game warden, looks them over.

Planning for the building started in 1980 and in a short time an enthusiastic full fledged development committee was organized. The committee's first priority was to bring the base with opportunities for business, commercial, creative, and recreational use to the forefront. The committee's major efforts were:

- Non-public funds derived from the federal and provincial governments and recreation on this semi-rotated base were used to finance the construction of 15,000 sq. ft. of recreational building.
- The building was constructed by the Industries Ltd. of Calgary.

Several months in Alberta's history have been marked by the fact that in 1985 under new regulations proposed by the Alberta government, the Alberta Health and approved by the Cabinet. This represents an increase of fifty cents per day for each patient.

There are 15 nursing homes operating in Alberta with a total of 1,400 beds. The 1985 report on average occupancy rate for the province was 85%.

During the past year the nursing homes throughout the province have been faced with a significant increase in cost of operation.

Pilsener

House of Lethbridge

How do you make a choice here? Well, Lethbridge Lager is the bold, heavy brew; Lethbridge Pilsener the traditional brew...naturally aged in the great old- fashioned way. Both are equally brewed, so it's a matter of traditional taste. As you can see, both the beers speak for themselves.

Peace and Promise of Christmas

Humble shepherds and mighty kings gave witness to the wondrous event of the birth of the Christ Child, and knew the great joy and peace that fills every heart on Christmas Day. May this gladness and contentment come down to you and those near and dear to you, enriching your lives in fullest measure.

A CHRISTMAS PRAYER

Let us pray that strength and courage abundant be given to all who work for a more peace and understanding; that the good that lies in every man's heart may lay day by day be magnified; that men will come to see more clearly not that which divides them, but that which unites them. "That each hour may bring us closer to a final victory, not of nation over nation, but of man over his own evil and weakness; that the spirit may be kind to this Christmas Season — its joy, its beauty, its hope, and above all its abiding faith — may live around us;" that the blessings of peace may turn the peace to build and grow, to live in harmony and sympathy with others, and to plan for the future with confidence.

O SAINTE NUIT

A wedding dress was laid out for the bride, and the bride was Mary Roger Knapp. May the young people have many happy years together.

The district saw many fine couples happily join the Christian's shoreward.

Among the visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Black, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Griffith of Zimmerman and Mr. and Mrs. Lester Gannon of Dayton, Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Spivey and their son, Christian, were among the guests.

Many of the young people were hospitalized early in the service and had to be sent home in the very bad and good condition for their birthday should be on the hospital at that time.

Winter has not been so agreeable to us as he has been in the springing of days. Just the weather does not put too cold with snow.

Thanks dear, and the young people will be the best.

What a name—should be the name of the day for the day.

Why the whole life? In the morning sun, "It's not going to take it."

Almost all years has learned in the past years to be a good factor—work, study, work, and the quarter.

Who thinks up new wrinkles for getting rid of old ones, in slacks and sheets and fabrics of all kinds?

Nothing is perfect. This fact has helped Dominion Textile become a leader in the Canadian textile industry.

Because it means there must be ways to improve almost every fabric.

Dominion Textile is constantly searching for new ways.

And finding quite a few of them. Slacks that keep the press in and the creases out. Sheets you never have to iron.

Shopping Hours... Now What?

After due consideration of a survey made by the St. Paul Chamber of Commerce and a brief survey of their own, the council of the Town of St. Paul has decided not to legislate on a by-law affecting the shopping hours of this town. Nothing as it is a chaotic and the situation will remain as it is—chaotic.

The survey made within the Chamber of Commerce headed by a committee chosen from the retail merchants' ranks, after an original survey and re-assessment of it in detail for further consideration, by the town had clearly recommended and indicated that their suggestions be accepted. They suggested all day closing on Wednesday and opening Friday evenings.

Their survey indicated that 70 persons interviewed from the business section had been in favor and 14 against. This was further categorized and indicated that 20 retailers who would be mostly affected by the change were in favor and one opposed. Six retailers said they endorsed closing a full day and one night shopping, but had alternatives.

The Town survey on the other hand interviewed with 21 retailers said ten favored all day closing Wednesday and opening Friday evening, six wanted matters left as they are and five wanted to close all day Wednesday but open Thursday night instead. On these findings the retailers to get involved and leave the merchants and other business men to haggle over their differences while the shopping public will continue to wonder what is going on—who is closed or open Friday night, with the resulting confusion that St. Paul's shopping image will continue to suffer.

We don't know who is right or wrong about the discrepancy of figures quoted from the surveys. Either they were very important subject and shelling it again will certainly not solve the problem... unless of course the merchants and business men are willing to enter into a tacit agreement to control shopping hour. This has been tried and never achieved with very little hope that it will now. We still need a law to control shopping or as one councillor stated, leave it wide open and let everyone stay open whenever they feel like it. But that would hardly work either.

BATTLE FOR SHOPPING HOURS

In consideration of the controversy about store hours in St. Paul the past month, the following article, on the battle for shopping hours is interesting. Some of its comments are not applicable to a small town, but there are basics worth noting. Editor.

"The battle over hours of retailing is building up," says Wm. Granger, editor of Merit's Wear. "Reports are being heard from all sections of Canada dealing with such situations. Late night openings three nights a week are growing and perhaps not too far ahead we may have to face up to the question of Sunday openings."

"The situation is not so far-fetched. Today in the U.S. the laws against Sunday selling are being attacked, circumvented and ignored more than ever. Some department stores are already suggesting that Sunday business hours may soon become relatively commonplace."

What Is It All About?

By Maurice Lashley, President, St. Paul A.T.A. Local

The purpose of this supplement is to attempt to give our citizens some idea of the progress of education in our community. What better time for this type of publication than Education Week? It is significant that the St. Paul Public, the St. Paul Separate and the St. Paul County School Boards have seen it fit financially to send the St. Paul Local of the Alberta Teachers' Association in publishing this supplement. This co-operation of elected school authorities and teachers reaffirms their interest in providing the best possible education for each and every child in their jurisdiction.

The theme of this paper is "What Is It All About?" It is a question that has been asked many times. The answer is simple: It is about the future of our children. It is about the future of our community. It is about the future of our country.

Obstacle Course

Our poor Regional High School is running an obstacle course which is becoming more difficult to climb as time progresses.

It all started with a petition to call a plebiscite and after this was won with a majority of the vote it was tested in a court case in favor; then came a strong pressure on the County to withdraw from the regional board. It survived on two votes of "confidence." But that was not the end as those opposed to the school held audience with the Minister of Education and managed to delay his confirmation.

The most recent obstacle was shown in the way the annual meeting of the County of St. Paul where a motion recommending that the council withdraw was carried.

Now what? is the big question on both sides. The council does not have to occupy the position which in essence is only a directive they may consider on its merits and the situation as it exists.

There are many alternatives. A referendum could be called of the ratepayers of the County to find out if they want to participate as a whole or some arrangements could be made to have those close to St. Paul share on special fee assessments.

The whole picture to this point has been distorted considerably by deliberate misinformation and misrepresentation of the facts that all the details of this school, the press and on taxation have been given through over six months, explanations have been given through the press and at special meetings held last fall. There is still a lot of misunderstanding on the subject. There was evidence of this by ratepayers who spoke on the subject, making statements and quoting figures which should have been clear in their minds long ago.

We wish to commend at this time the superintendent of schools for the County, Mr. Nick Chmichuk, who has come under severe criticism and received threatening and libelous unsigned letters. Mr. Chmichuk who on behalf and through directives of the County of St. Paul was assigned to work out preliminary details of the school, staked his job on the honesty of his motives. His clear, lucid and logical explanations of the facts without reservation, bringing out the arguments for and against, can certainly not be questioned.

Also worthy of note is a statement from the School Inspector's report listing 422 students from the County attending St. Paul schools without paying any tuition fees. Although some of the tuition is picked up through grants, the St. Paul school system and the taxpayers have to make up the deficits each administration services provided voluntarily by local trustees.

We must also come to the defence of the Chamber of Commerce who was accused by a number of people of being the force and the power promoting the school for selfish and financial interest of St. Paul.

Such a statement is without foundation, because, although the Chamber endorsed the school as a project not only for the Town but the whole district on behalf of education, it has not one bit of jurisdiction on the board and can do nothing but try and exercise whatever influence it has.

On the other hand some of the smaller areas who are afraid of their economic position, have admitted that better education could be obtained in a composite school, but still refuse to support it for personal motives.

It has been made clear time and again, that should the Vocational School in St. Paul not be built, expansion will have to take place in the small schools which will increase the mill rate more than the regional school and leave the standard of education much lower.

What is the use of increasing the certification qualifications of teachers, developing new teaching aids and techniques if we are going to place them out of reach. Equalization of education was a subject of discussion at a teachers' convention last week. It means giving every child an equal opportunity to educate himself. The parents who deny this to their children will have to bear the consequences, sooner or later, for it is their own consciences.

A decision from the Minister of Education at this time to settle the issue would be very much appreciated to bring to an end a controversy which is beginning to strain relations.

OTJ Develops Good Hockey Players

The team system of the OTJ playgrounds in developing hockey players is starting to pay off. Concrete evidence of this was the record established by the Bantams during the playing season which began in the provincial cup. From this club, juniors, juniors, juniors and even senior hockey exists of the future. The success of the juniors and seniors is also a result of players who have worked up.

But this doesn't happen overnight and the management of the OTJ and the forces behind it should be recognized for the invaluable work they are doing in moulding young hockey players and what is more important character, wholesome type of entertainment and occupation after school hours.

The OTJ has been functioning for over a decade now and each year over 200 young players from the pee-wee ranks up, register to try out for the club, and all of them make it regardless of their ability, to get a chance to develop during those formative years.

The responsibility from year to year of organizing and administration has been delegated to priests in the parish assisted by laymen who volunteer their time, such as Henri Van Brabant and Rene DeMossie and many others along with the business men who have been giving financial support and supplying the cups and trophies for the deserving players. Volunteer coaches such as Steve Swick, Mr. Sobel and others deserve much credit.

And because of this devotion, we have lots of hockey players who are growing up as good citizens. Again, a new arena will be a boon for all of them.

About Time

In his second attempt at tax changes aimed at curbing inflation and protecting the dollar, Finance Minister Sharp threatened his announcement of higher taxes with a promise to reduce government spending. As one item on his program, he announced that "the government has decided to increase a fraction of the total number employed in the public service as a whole."

Looking back over the record, any taxpayer would say that it is about time this happened. In ten years the civil service payroll has more than doubled.

In 1960 the federal government spent $730 million on salaries and wages. In the next five years the total went up by more than $200 million, to $953 million in 1965. Since then it has escalated more rapidly. $1,019 million in 1966; $1,165 million in 1967; $1,307 million in 1968; to an estimated $1,486 million in the current fiscal year.

Written out in full, the current figure is $1,486,154,107. The taxpayers will put in a lot of hours of labor to earn the money to meet that payroll.

Canada Assistance Plan

The significance of the Canada Assistance Plan, which came into being in 1967, lies in the fact that it provides for integration into one overall measure various assistance programs such as Old Age Assistance, Blind Persons Allowances, Disabled Persons Allowances and Unemployment Assistance.

By extending for the first time federal sharing of costs in additional areas such as Mothers Allowances, Child Welfare and Health and Welfare Services, the Plan also gives emphasis to prevention and rehabilitation and thus to the reduction of assistance caseloads.

Survivor's Benefits

Survivor's benefits under the Canada Pension Plan become payable in February this year. They include widows' pensions, benefits to the dependent children of deceased contributors to the Plan, disabled widows' pensions and a lump sum death benefit payable to the estate of the contributor who dies. The Department of National Health and Welfare is urging survivors of contributors to the Plan to visit the nearest Canada Pension Plan district or local office for assistance in applying for survivors' benefits.

This is one of the two best beers
in the house.

Number One!

Count down... just how many "best" beers can you find? Well, most of our customers think don't only one. Some say it's our best, honey Lethbridge beer. What do we think? Well, both are equally brewed, and we don't want to get caught in the middle of an argument like that. That's why we say that Lethbridge Lager and Lethbridge Pilsner are the two best beers in the house.

The two best beers in the house!

A Look Into The Past

BY PETER VAITUKINAS

Photographic record of the progress of St. Paul and district is being presented to you from time to time by Peter Vaitukinas from his collection made as a commercial project.

GRAIN LOADING IN THE EARLY TWENTIES

There were no automatic grain loaders in the early twenties when a strong back was needed to get the grain over a mound. Just even the conversion of an elevator into grain elevators are seen with their horses and original rail cars where loads of grain are transferred directly to the last cars. Photo by E. Haglund of Haldimand.

A sewing machine is a little like the family car, it is one of the most important items in the home. It is not just for the lady of the house, but for the whole family. It is a machine that makes life easier and more enjoyable.

Keep the machine clean and it will last for years. It is a machine that makes life easier and more enjoyable. It is a machine that makes life easier and more enjoyable.

Periodic oiling and lubrication of your machine is necessary. Check with your manual to see how often they recommend. Generally, if the machine is used every day, it should be oiled every day. If it is used only once in a while, it should be oiled once a week.

When the sewing is completed, the machine should be cleaned. Use a soft brush to remove lint and dust. Then use a cloth to wipe the machine down. Finally, use a small amount of oil to lubricate the machine. This will keep it in good working order for the next time you use it.

Co-operation Both Ways

During and after the annual 4-H Calf Club Show and Sale last week, complaints were made by some farmers to business men and the Chamber of Commerce accusing them of lack of support to the promotion.

Nothing could be more unfair and unjustified when you consider that at the meeting before the sale, every member was urged by the president and the farm representative on the board to support the sale. In order to help out a committee was appointed to encourage purchases and members committed themselves to buy two calves in the name of the Chamber, on a share basis, besides other members who bought under firm names.

The show itself, in our estimation, was a very good one with as good a crowd as can be expected under these circumstances, and the sale was a complete success according to comments from farmers. Every animal sold with average prices recorded over the recent Lloydminster 4-H show and sale.

This complaint by farmers against town people and business men is a prevalent one which is sometimes not quite justified. Co-operation is a two-way street and the business men in town have been astute enough to realize that their welfare is tied in with the farm population, although both need to complement each other if they are to exist.

The Chamber of Commerce for decades has been inviting farmers to become members of the local Chamber, attend regular weekly meetings where mutual problems and aid can be discussed, without too much success. We have had a few of them participate, but for the last four years the farm representative (the only one willing to serve) has been the lone one. Whenever he has a suggestion and requests co-operation he gets it wholeheartedly, but of course he cannot speak for all the farmers and is not aware of all the problems which may exist.

Back alley criticism is not of much value. The place to bring ideas, suggestions and criticisms is at the discussion table where open, frank and reasonable consideration can be given with the right solutions arrived at to the satisfaction of everyone without hard feelings or recrimination.

So, Mr. Farmer, we frankly advise you to join the Chamber of Commerce where St. Paul business men will welcome you, your ideas, and offer all the co-operation you want and need.

The Big Political Debate

The big political debate billed as one of the outstanding television productions of the year is done and over.

After all the elaborate preparations, the show itself was anti-climatic as it did not bring out any new ideas in the political field and much of the policy statements and questions and answers were run of the mill stuff the leaders and their candidates have been expounding the past few weeks.

As a matter of fact, it might be described as much too formal and no advantage was really gained by any one politician, as they all behaved very well without any real show of barn storming political spirit apart from Mr. Coquerotte who was eloquent in French, but did not cut too much ice with monetary reforms.

Tommy Douglas in the world of verbal spargage is a pro and speaking on his feet is a natural. Too bad the NDP doesn't seem to have the answers for our national problems.

Mr. Stanfield was decorous itself, spoke well prepared, expressing a good general knowledge of what is going on in the country.

The spotlight of course was on Pierre Elliott Trudeau, the unproven Prime Minister of Canada who has created a wave of enthusiasm in politics all across the country.

Although he spoke intelligently, vehemently denied and corrected some of the statements of his contemporaries, showed the odd spark of fire, Mr. Trudeau is more a dynamic campaigner on the road where people can feel the contact of his dynamism rather than the impersonality projected on TV.

Now that you have met your leaders, been able to assess strong and weak points, the issue is to elect a strong representative government in Canada on June 25th.

FAMILIAL ELECTION SCENE GENERATED BY TRUDEAU

By now this kind of scene is familiar across the country as Prime Minister Trudeau draws large throngs, many of them children expressing their wish for a man who has become a dad across the land.

The scene is unfolding around him at Grand Centre last week where he spoke on behalf of Liberal candidate Mike Macgregor for Athabasca and Jules Van Brabant of St. Paul for Vegreville.

Let's Dress Up The Landing Pad

Our landing pad has attracted a terrific amount of attention and publicity during the centennial year. So much so that a noticeable amount of tourist traffic swings into St. Paul off the main highway to take a look at it.

The fever of centennial year has cooled off a bit but this is no reason why our landing pad should be abandoned. It was our understanding last year that it would be suitably pointed and landscaped to dress it up properly.

In its present condition it looks a little drab. The only color in it are flags, and these are being systematically stolen as they are replaced.

It costs the St. Paul Chamber of Commerce $130.00 per set, an expense that can ill afford. Conscientious citizens of St. Paul, students and children who might be aware of its participation in this year's vandalism would do well to tip off the authorities so they can be apprehended and dealt with accordingly.

We should all take pride in this monument to centennial by encouraging people to look after it and take care of the surroundings so that they can present the best appearance possible.

We know that the Town has plans to paint and landscape the pad, and understand why there has been some reasonable delay. However, a stand should be taken to expedite matters so that the pad can be finished and dressed up for the edification of travelling tourists.

The pad was sponsored at no cost to the Town so there should be no objection to foot the cost of maintenance. It's the least we can do now.

Bridge At Myrnam

After he sat down for the accompaniment of O Canada, later followed by the announcement that a new bridge would be built at Myrnam, Hon. Gordon Taylor was the guest of the day to a meeting of over 200 farmers and businessmen present to hear his proposal.

And who is going to look a gift horse in the mouth when given the choice of scrapping two ferries in favor of a million dollar bridge across the North Saskatchewan River?

Pressure of some sort had been exerted on the Minister of Highways for some time by the Myrnam Chamber of Commerce and the businessmen of St. Paul ever since the Hensburg bridge was opened a few years ago.

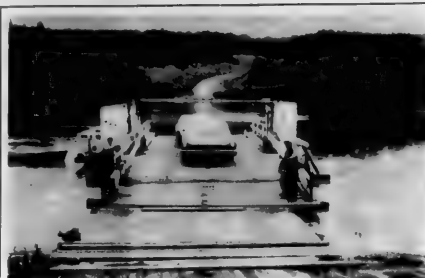

The wheels of government turn slow, but Mr. Taylor, from the date and the plans submitted at the meeting, and his engineers must have been working for a few years investigating all the mechanical details. They had all the answers down pat, but better still, a decisive proposal which was accepted unanimously and unanimously by the best wishes of the communities involved on both sides of the river to get on with it as soon as possible.

Even the ferry man for 17 years, George Boratyn, was all for it and looking forward to retiring with the honor of being the last man to operate the ferry.

And so we extend our thanks to Mr. Taylor for his timely announcement. Hon. Ray Reiser who has been lobbying for the bridge for a long time, too.

The bridge announcement was supplemented by the information that the Myrnam - St. Paul road would be on the high priority list to be included as a secondary road in the provincial grid system and eventually be hard topped.

At this time we are wondering if the same kind of statements could be made about the St. Vincent road north and would welcome any announcement that it would be paved as soon as possible - like next year. How about it Mr. Taylor and make a clean sweep of a bridge at Myrnam and black top all the way north to Highway 28, to complete an artery that is bleeding for attention.

MYRNAM FERRY IN SERVICE SINCE 1914

The word from Hon. Gordon Taylor is that the Myrnam Ferry in operation since 1914 has to go to make way for a modern one million dollar bridge. No one regrets the decision and even ferryman George Boratyn who has been crossing the North Saskatchewan for 17 years accepts the decision philosophically. Since the number has been reduced to 16 and with the disappearance of Hopkins and Myrnam by 1970 will be down to 14.

BRIDGE TO JOIN ROAD NETWORK

This map shows how a bridge of Myrnam will complete a gap between Highway 41 and 36 that will join 41 and 36 together right down the middle to provide better communication between the north and south side of the Saskatchewan River. It is 18 miles south of St. Paul and 3 miles north of Myrnam. The dotted lines on either side of the river at Myrnam indicate the 5.6 miles of approach roads the Provincial Government will build with the bridge. From Myrnam to Myrnam is 10 miles on the river; from Myrnam to St. Paul bridge, 12 miles and the Hopkins Ferry, also to go to 14 miles upstream.

Formation Of First Local Gas Utilities

Following a vote of confidence in the formation of the first gas utility in the St. Paul area, the St. Paul Gas Utility was formed.

The St. Paul Gas Utility was formed by the St. Paul Chamber of Commerce and the businessmen of St. Paul ever since the Hensburg bridge was opened a few years ago.

The wheels of government turn slow, but Mr. Taylor, from the date and the plans submitted at the meeting, and his engineers must have been working for a few years investigating all the mechanical details. Count the flyers on our label.
Let's see. Two in the biplane and another three on the fence posts. That's five fast flyers. All this with a speeding express train, a racing stagecoach and a hopped up Hugoboom. What's everybody's hurry? Haven't known in Lethbridge we take our own sweet time bringing the beer behind that lively label. Then we get it slowly and naturally. For a flavor that goes over great.

Striking Union Workers Curtain District Mail Service

While many post offices, the one at St. Paul, Vermilion, Vermilion, Wainwright, Bonnyville, are still handling mail delivery in their areas, mail has come to a standstill here because three union members went on strike with the rest of the 100,000 postal workers.

More Control Of Unions

The postal strike went on as scheduled last week, offering the economy of a Canadian across the country, costing them millions of dollars in loss of business and through extra expenses of operating without essential communication services that are the life blood of the country. It not only affects industry but every man and woman in this country will have to pay for it one way or another.

There is not much sympathy for the striking postal employees and their carriers with public resentment mounting both against them and the government for mishandling the situation.

In the first place the postal workers as civil servants should never have been allowed to form an independent union which some of these unions are negotiating.

On the other hand the government was too slow to step into the picture to prevent the strike. When they did it was too late and they had little to offer.

We recognize and have no objections to raises in pay and salary to meet spiralling costs, but are strongly against unreasonable demands beyond fair inflationary trends which some of these unions are making including the postal workers.

There is no reason in the world why the rest of the country in other fields should be made to suffer. We believe in the rights of the individual unions, but when these self-same rights infringe on that of others through loss of money and inconvenience such as the postal strike creates, they are not justified. When the rights of the people who are losing millions of dollars. Should they not be granted theirs?

There was a time, maybe 20 or 40 years ago when employees were barely abused and needed unions to protect them. They have accomplished their purpose, are still required, but the pendulum has swung the other way and the time has come to bring them back into line, with some protection for industry and management against the unreasonable demands of unions who are getting too heavy with power-hungry leaders, furthering their own aims rather than that of the rank and file, often against the wishes of the majority of members who themselves suffer through loss of wages which takes years to retrieve because of unreasonable strikes.

Here, in St. Paul, post offices services were curtailed because three members of the local staff are union while the other four are not and the Post Master is management and has to stay on the job regardless. They feared reprisals. We have learned that the post office in Vermilion and other centres the size of St. Paul did not do this, despite the fact that their employees were union. There was no need for it in St. Paul and these people will have to bear the brunt of responsibility for their action and suffer the consequences. Why should three people control the local delivery which at least we could have had, to all the smaller points in the area where the post offices will remain open. The St. Paul Journal is being circulated locally by special arrangements this week, and the papers to outside points in the district where post offices are closed, delivered by our own transport at our own expense. This could have been prevented had local services been available because the truck contract transports are not on strike and would have dispatched the mail.

And so it is that three people have created this situation locally. On the national front we hope Mr. Trudeau will handle this first real strike crisis in the best interests of the country as quickly as possible. If not, he will lose much of his punch and go down in stature with us and many others. Too much time has already been lost.

Would Glorify Ottawa

It would be pleasant to report that all the young candidates for Parliament on June 25 were elected. If all the young families pictured on campaign literature could go to live in the capital area, Ottawa, attractive as it already is, would be a much more attractive place than it has been in most of the past.

Poor ventilation was once a major cause of problems encountered by dairy-plant electricians, however, provides an economical solution. Dairy industry surveys indicate that cows in a well ventilated barn produce up to 5% more milk than stock kept in poorly ventilated buildings.

Move Grain At All Costs

The decision of the Canadian Board to negotiate to move Canadian Wheat through United States ports is a good one indeed although it is not expected to alleviate completely the critical situation which faces western farmers, it will help.

The wheat tie up is another instance of unreasonable power and effect unwaranted strikes are causing the people of this country.

This time it will be the farmers who will be directly affected with the threat of export market losses this year which may never be recovered if other countries fill in the breach for the purchasers who may continue to buy from their own suppliers.

And as the western farmers are adversely affected in the prairies, so is every businessman and individual in the prairie. Here in St. Paul where we are completely dependent on an agricultural economy, the slow up in eastern ports is bound to reflect in a curtailment of business as the farmers feel the squeeze this fall when the crops are harvested.

How long can this country afford this and where is it going to lead all of us?

Should Alleviate Parking

We note with pleasure that the Provincial government has had its lot adjacent to the court house, levelled and gravelled this week.

Although we are looking forward in the near future to have the government build more accommodations for its services to fill in the gaping hole, for the time being the lot provides very good parking facilities for its employees.

We hope that they will make full use of it in the future to alleviate the parking situation on main streets. Too many of them and other employees still use the main street for all day parking, cutting down the transient potential for parking.

Pleasure Boat Crashes, Deaths On The Increase

The incidence of accidents among small powered pleasure boats is steadily increasing and more than half of such accidents involve collisions.

The National Safety League of Canada notes that just as in automobile accidents the responsibility rests with the motor boat operator, who faces the same hazards that there are no age restrictions nor licensing provisions for boat drivers.

In addition there are no marked traffic lanes on the waterways and no speed limits. By contrast, on any single street, a boat operator must constantly observe traffic patterns of all other boats in his area and be prepared for early action to counteract course and speed changes of them.

He cannot do this if he is watching a water skier - it is recommended that a second person in the boat do this while the operator concentrates on where he is going.

Another hazard is an improperly loaded or overloaded boat, which may not plane properly and thus ride the bow high out of the water that the operator cannot see ahead. A buoy, log or other object may just smash the propeller, but it may also hole the hull and sink the boat rapidly.

These and other hazards can be avoided by prudent operation of boats and by learning and observing local rules provided in the Department of Transport's publication "Safety Aloft".

In addition, a simplified "Better Boating Course" has been developed by the League. It comes complete with a kit for a class of 20, instruction manual and other necessary materials and is available from provincial safety councils and leagues.

Brownmaster Distillers won't award the coveted Milton Medal to any bottle until he's sure it's earned it. And he should know; he's the brilliant chemist who developed a better way to know how.

Here, in North America's first complete Distillers Revolution, every bottle is actually brewed to consistently great flavor.

Only when the beer is just as it should be does Brownmaster Distillers award his medal of approval. The Milton Medal.

Unrealistic Bag Limit

The hunting season has opened for migratory birds and upland birds in some zones and big game.

And the hunters have protested to complain about this year. The price of licenses keeps going up and the restrictions go on increasing.

To get out in the field to shoot migratory birds and upland birds it costs $6.50, and more for big game depending on what you want to hunt.

To start you have to pay a flat $2.00 as the first step — a contribution to the Wildlife Damage Fund. Another $2.50 for a bird game sticker which allows you to shoot upland game, but not migratory birds. And you have to double over to the Post Office and buy an extra license for the sum of $2.00 adding up to the total of $6.50. This applies both for hunters under 16 and young hunters of 14 who may get the same privilege to hunt with their parents or legal guardian only and no one else.

If you want to go after big game a moose sticker and tag costs $5.00, each species of deer $3.00, elk $3.00 and so on to an almost limitless amount.

In an article which appeared in the Edmonton Journal recently Dr. S. B. Smith, Alberta Fish and Wildlife Director criticized the bag limits imposed this year calling them unjust and unfair to Canadian hunters. He is right.

We have no quarrel with the eight daily limit and sixteen possession, but we question the fairness of three Mallards daily and six possession.

In this part of Alberta, especially in field shoots, Mallards are the big bag. Five minutes and two shots in a field where there is any amount of ducks is the limit of any shoot under these restrictions.

Through our own hunting experience and association with other hunters, we would be willing to bet that there is not one hunter in a hundred that would stop at this limit if the shoot was good. So what happens? The excess is hidden in the bush and one, two or three trips are made to bring them into town, hoping the game warden is not around.

The poor game warden doesn't make the laws. He just enforces them, which is his duty and no one has a quarrel with him. These kind of laws are just made to be broken and as long as they exist, they will continue to be broken by law abiding citizens who otherwise wouldn't think of even stealing a pin.

And while the law makers digest this, if they happen to read this editorial, it is about time they give some thought to Sunday hunting. This is the one day of the week people can get out for a little sport and there should be no objection.

We believe in wild life preservation but there is a limit on restrictions and lower which are made to enforce and contribute nothing to preservation when you consider that the ducks fly down into the States where they are shot at by a greater number of hunters than in Canada and knocked down by the millions.

Fine Community Spirit

Last Saturday we attended the annual banquet of the St. Paul baseball club to wind up the season's activities.

The success of the Club is noteworthy in times when it is very difficult to get any kind of support for summer sports against the competition of other attractions.

The key to their success is found in the fine community spirit from the farm boys who make up this club and the large following behind them with moral and physical support.

As one of the speakers said, the parents have to be commended for giving up valuable "own time" and support to the youngsters who are coming up under the coaching and management of the veteran members like Don Kachmarczyk, Maurice Loxton, Jack Purifichot and others who are the force from the dug out and supply the enthusiasm behind the baseball club.

Congratulations to them for winning the Mann Lake Baseball League this year, and our thanks to the ladies for the fine banquet, Saturday night, and the entertainment and hospitality which went with it afterwards of the reception and dance.

ST. PAUL BALL CLUB AND TROPHIES

Council Briefs

The newly formed Anti-Racism Association was represented by its president, Vic Tarn, who requested the use of the old rear track at the addition grounds for such use.

In his report, the group explained that the organization was formed to help the community in the fight against racism and to provide a forum for the expression of views on racial matters.

A very detailed and interesting report was given by the group on the activities of the organization since its formation. The report was well received by the audience.

A meeting of the committee was held on Saturday night, September 7th, at the home of Mrs. J. J. Smith.

It was pointed out that the committee is still in the early stages of its work and that it is not yet in a position to make any recommendations.

Compromising Statement

Last week two Indians came into the office of the St. Paul Journal claiming injustice and discrimination at the hands of white employers.

According to their story they were referred by the Manpower Office in St. Paul to jobs in Grand Central. Their expenses there were absorbed by Indian Affairs here.

They were turned back on the grounds that the foreman of the firm involved told them they did not need helpers or Indians. Upon investigation, and explanation, other factors came into the picture, and there seems to be some justification for turning them back.

However, the foreman of the company made a grave mistake when he wrote on the rejection slip that they "did not hire Indians." No matter what the provocation, this was certainly unwarranted and unjustified and will be hard to explain satisfactorily.

Check Your Flags

We noticed that many of the Canadian flags flying in St. Paul are getting pretty ragged, and it might be a good idea for the owners to check and replace them with new ones.

Another point that was brought to our attention was the fact that some of the flags are never taken down and blow in the wind all day and night. It is customary to lower flags at sunset and raise them again at sunrise, a practice which would be a good idea while at the same time probably conserve them for double duty.

Only one flag should fly each mast, but if it is necessary to double up, the Canadian flag should get the full mast preference.

Just a few points to maintain the pride we should have in our Canadian flag.

Brand New Paul

The point and decorating job on the landing pad has brought out the centennial spirit in a most dramatic way.

The white and green complementing colors are just what would attract outer space visitors and match the colors assumed conventional for celestial beings.

Too bad it wasn't done a little earlier for the tourists to appreciate. But better late than never, and by the time next year rolls along, we hope the landscaping and the approaches are completed for the best effect.

By the way, over 1000 persons signed the register at the Chamber of Commerce Tourist Bureau this summer during the two months an attendant was on duty? Surprising isn't it? But it proves the value of the bureau as an investment well worth it which should be continued in the future.

Buy That Car

If you're thinking of buying a new car - now is the best time for a good price, Philip Mathias says in The Financial Post.

Crocker-Kelley deals are going on some Ford, Plymouth and other medium-priced cars that may have sold slowly in some cities or were overstocked because of winter factory strikes. But, all deals just now are good, as salesmen hustle to clear the showrooms for the new models.

What's more, it looks as if 1969 prices will be higher and warranties less protective. Chrysler Corp. has already announced a 2.9 per cent increase in its U.S. prices. That's about $101 more on a $3,500 car. For fear higher prices will discourage customers, some dealers are holding back more 1968 model cars to be able to offer a lower-priced alternative to the new models.

Money Taps Are Open

With money costs easing and credit more readily available, your bank manager should be much more receptive now to requests for business and personal loans. Term loans, in particular, should be easier to get. By historical standards, loan costs are still relatively high - and may remain that way. But some borrowers - particularly businesses looking for interim financing - may find accommodation for the first time in months.

A Look Into The Past

BY PETER VAITUKUMAS

Photographic record of the progress of St. Paul and district is being presented to you from time to time by Peter Vaitukumas from his collection made as a centennial project.

ELK POINT IN 1917

We haven't got too much information on this picture, except that it is the Elk Point Main Street in 1917. Some of the buildings will be identified for the history and interesting momentary while they compare this and the progress made since then. The building in the end, and the other houses were in his day they at that time provided the information and transportation facilities to the town.

Seven ages of Childhood

There are seven important ages in the growth of every child. Distinct ages, when big things happen to make the child a little more adult. Portraits taken at these times can tell the story of a child's growing up, for every detail is there to bring to mind the precocious acts, profound words, loving smiles that sometimes go forgotten in a busy mother's day.

OCTOBER 6 TO 12

Surprisingly simple and inexpensive can be fire protection of your home. Suggested steps:

1. Think about fire prevention and what you can do to stop fire before it happens. Don't hesitate to ask your fire chief for advice. It costs you nothing to ask for advice.

Fire prevention and protection, like everything else for safety in living, is helped by acceptance of responsibility.

Surprising, too, may be your greater peace of mind in having the gumption to think about fire protection for your loved ones.

MR. AND MRS. GEORGE KARTH

Exchange Vows In Greek Church

The Ukrainian Greek Catholic Church in St. Paul was the scene of a recent wedding ceremony when Mrs. George Karth exchanged vows with Mr. George Karth in August 1980. The ceremony was held in the church's main sanctuary and was attended by a large number of guests. The bride and groom were both dressed in traditional Greek Catholic wedding attire. The ceremony was officiated by a priest from the church.

Restore Memorial

OTTAWA, October 8 — The restoration of the Ukrainian Greek Catholic Memorial in St. Paul is well advanced. The memorial, which was damaged by fire in 1974, is being restored by the Ukrainian Greek Catholic Church. The restoration work is being carried out by a team of craftsmen and is expected to be completed by the end of the year. The memorial is a significant landmark in the St. Paul community and is a testament to the faith and heritage of the Ukrainian Greek Catholic Church.

Hallowe'en .. Good Or Bad

Hallowe'en is just for the kids, but it isn't in its whole a controversy of whether or not the practice of trick or treat should be tolerated or discouraged. We have received opinions from both sides, but the majority seem to indicate that perhaps the time has come to take a second look.

One person asked who was most wrong with the Town Council and what they had against children for cutting the hours of the goblins down to only 5:30 in the evening.

A few of the reasons as far as they are concerned deal with the hazards involved either if gets dark and little ones should be in early, that most also which on extended hours can amount to a fortune. We have reports of firms and private homes giving out as much as $25.00 worth of candies and apples. From our point of view, we feel that some changes should be made, if not abolish the Hallowe'en practice, at least curtail it to some extent. Keep it for the young children ten years and under, the ones who get innocent pleasure out of Hallowe'en, as long as they are accompanied by parents or an older sister or brother.

It gets beyond the point of tolerance when you see big guys, we assume are in high school, going around trying to scrounge as much free loot as they can get their hands on, without thanks and sneers if they feel they have not received enough. It's cute with the little ones, but out of place with the big ones who of times have no respect for property, trespassing across lawns and over fences.

Far from being Scrooges, we deplore the practices reported in the bigger cities, for instance, where razor blades have been inserted in apples and chocolate candy advocates going that far. There are more rational ways of controlling the kids.

Hallowe'en in support of charitable organizations that encourage children to raise money for humanitarian purposes are very commendable and should be supported. Perhaps it should be confined to the area alone, or in the immediate neighborhood and private party for the kids.

But observing Hallowe'en, which is actually a serious celebration in commemoration of the dead, for the express purpose of scrounging as many apples, peanuts, chocolate bars as possible, has not much merit in itself and contributes nothing to the responsible upbringing of our children.

We are pleased to note that there was no serious vandalism in St. Paul, except perhaps a few practical jokes who labelled the St. Paul Journal as the "Rice Street Fry Market" with a big sign on the door advertising that we specialize in rice and wend along with the joke. At least no windows were broken.

A Message From The Canadian Legion

Canada has lost over 100,000 men in wars. On November the 11th, the anniversary of the armistice that ended World War I, Canadians from coast-to-coast will pay tribute to these dead. Out of respect to their memory, wreaths will be laid at war memorials and two minutes of silence will be observed. The two minutes of silence is a custom which began in 1919. The late King George V asked that all normal work and other activity cease for a period of two minutes, starting at eleven o'clock in the morning.

You will notice that many Canadians wear red poppies during the Remembrance Day period. Canadians first came to associate the poppies with the war dead during the bloody 1914-1918 campaigns in Flanders. Each spring poppies spring up over the graves of the dead, like a silent word of remembrance. A Canadian soldier-physician, Lt.-Col. John McCrae immortalized the poppy in his poem, "In Flanders Fields". John McCrae pleaded with the living to remember the dead and what they had done. He himself died in France but his plea, and the poppies he wrote about, lived on.

In 1926 the poppy was adopted as the symbol of

The Family That Sleights Together ... Stays Together

One of the latest of the series of family photographs published in the St. Paul Journal is a family of five. The father, mother, and three children are posed in a domestic setting. The father is on the left, the mother in the center, and three children on the right. They are all dressed in formal or semi-formal attire.

RECOMMENDATIONS
1. Family members should be of legal age and of sound mind and body.
2. Bank members to be active.

Recommendations These people are recommended for membership in the St. Paul Journal. The family is a good example of a family that stays together. The father is a successful businessman, the mother is a homemaker, and the children are well-behaved and successful in their own right.

Wearing A Poppy Sign Remembrance

Last November day and a half million people dressed in red poppies. The poppy is the symbol of remembrance for the war dead. It is a simple yet powerful way to show respect for those who sacrificed their lives for our country.

Although wearing a poppy is a simple act, it is a powerful statement. It is a way to show that we remember the war dead and the sacrifices they made. It is a way to show that we are proud of our country and the values it stands for.

The American was recently in Canada in 1985. At that time, he was in Canada for a short time, but he was able to see the poppy in action. He was impressed by the way the poppy was worn and the respect it commanded.

John McCrae was a soldier-poet who wrote the poem "In Flanders Fields". He was a Canadian soldier who was killed in action during World War I. His poem is one of the most famous poems of the war, and it is a testament to the sacrifices of the war dead.

During this period, Hallowe'en was a time when the poppy was worn. It was a time when the poppy was a symbol of remembrance for the war dead. It was a time when the poppy was a symbol of respect for those who sacrificed their lives for our country.

The first attack had the poppy in the air. The poppy was a symbol of remembrance for the war dead. It was a symbol of respect for those who sacrificed their lives for our country. It was a symbol of the values that we stand for.

Kremlin Is Split On Czechoslovakia
It seems incredible that the Soviet Union, which has been a major power for so long, is now split on the issue of Czechoslovakia. This is a sign of the changing of the guard in the Soviet Union, and it is a sign of the end of the Cold War.

There are a number of signs pointing to a change in the Soviet Union. The Soviet Union is no longer the superpower it once was, and it is no longer the only superpower in the world. This is a sign of the end of the Cold War, and it is a sign of a new world order.

Agrologists Told ARDA Boggled Down Red Tape

The South Eastern Alberta Branch of the Alberta Institute of Agrologists held their 1968-69 series of dinner meetings and study sessions by gathering in St. Paul last week to hear guest speakers develop their theme for winter study.

As Mr. Larry Garrison, host for the evening, in charge of developing programs for ARDA in the area stated, there is a grave need to do more and in the immediate future if this area is to grow as a sound economic base.

Mr. Garrison gave a rough sketch of the economic potential of the area, and the need for more development in the area.

Rising Cost Of Health Care

In the early part of November Hon. J. Donovan Ross, Minister of Health for the Province of Alberta, became very annoyed and indignant at the Federal-Provincial conference over the issue of medicare in Canada and almost to tell the federal government what they could do with it in very undiplomatic language, not quite in keeping with the ethics of the profession he represents.

The whole issue revolves around the responsibilities and the share cost of medicare as a whole and who should bear the biggest load for its financing, the federal or the provincial governments.

Onward by announcing that it will turn the whole program back to the provinces in the 1970's has created a furor and more especially the one raised by Dr. Ross who claims the federal authorities are trying to force the provinces to levy extra taxes in order to support the program, on top of all their other responsibilities in a spiralling world they can't control.

Mr. Manning has been advocating a hard line of resistance against public spending, a stock Prime Minister Trudeau is also veering towards and makes sense if the economy of this country is to survive.

The trouble, however, is that although everyone realizes the necessity for a cut back, no one wants to bear the brunt of it and tries to shift the weight of the burden on to someone else.

Much the same situation applies here in Alberta to some of the lower level of government, where the Alberta Hospital Division administered by the Minister of Health through Mr. J. D. Campbell, Deputy Minister of Health Services advised, somewhat quite arbitrarily, without notice, that the Alberta Government will not review the financial position of hospitals any more, nor will it help them in their debt payments after June of 1968.

At the Convention of the Alberta Hospital Association held last week, grave concern was expressed over this statement which projects over seven million dollars of debt for Alberta Hospitals by the end of 1968.

Urban and rural hospitals have been facing the same spiralling costs of administration which varied according to size, but is equally serious in proportion regardless of the amount.

How can these hospitals request extra money from the municipalities which administer them and did not budget for the increases during the current year, and if they are forced to pay it in the long run who will suffer most? The ratpayer of course and the property owners who will have to take on extra mills.

And so the federal dumps more responsibility on the provincial government and they in turn move the ladder to closer to the municipalities and their ratpayers who have long suffered from provincial oppression and been forced to pay more than their equal share of the tax burden - a fact which is becoming more evident and is pointed out at municipal conventions, hospital conventions, school conventions.

The situation is even worse for a volunteer or private hospital such as St. Paul who cannot fall back on any municipality for support, but must carry a deficit in its books or take it out of its private capital which is not realistic when one realizes hospitals are still considered as basically charitable organizations dedicated and devoted to the welfare of sick people.

We hope that the Alberta Department of Health will reconsider its stand and at least give the hospitals time to adjust their budgets which at the best are almost unobtainable in view of unpredictable income and expenditures governed by increasing salaries and overhead which no one is able to stabilize if the needs and demands of the people are to be met.

Drastring changes will have to take place, said Dr. Frederick N. Elliot, Assistant director of the American Hospital Association, who was a guest speaker at the AHA convention.

"The medical systems of both Canada and the United States," he warned, "are now operating on a

With so much talk lately in the news about the importance of the family, it is not surprising that many of us, as women, have been thinking about the family in a new way. The family is the basic unit of society, and it is the responsibility of each of us to help build a strong and healthy family. This is not always an easy task, but it is one that we must take seriously if we want to see a better future for ourselves and for our children.

One of the most important things we can do for our family is to spend time together. This doesn't mean that we have to spend every minute of our lives with our family, but it does mean that we should make time for each other. This can be as simple as having a meal together or going for a walk. The important thing is that we are together and that we are enjoying each other's company.

Another important thing we can do for our family is to communicate. This means that we should talk to each other about our feelings, our thoughts, and our dreams. We should listen to each other and try to understand each other's point of view. This is not always easy, but it is a necessary part of a healthy family.

Finally, we should remember that the family is a team. We all have different strengths and weaknesses, but we must work together to overcome our problems and achieve our goals. This means that we must support each other and encourage each other. We must be there for each other in times of need and celebrate each other's successes.

The problems in the world today are many and complex. But if we focus on our family and work to build a strong and healthy family, we can make a difference. We can be a part of the solution. We can be the change we want to see in the world.

Parliament Report

By Dr. Paul Veythick, M.P.

It should be an expectation of the public that the government should be held accountable for its actions. This is especially true when it comes to the health care system, which is a fundamental right of every citizen. The government has a duty to ensure that the health care system is accessible to all and that it is of the highest quality. If the government fails to do this, it is failing its citizens and its duty.

One of the most serious problems facing the health care system in Canada is the issue of funding. The government has not provided enough funding for the health care system, and this has led to long waiting lists and a decline in the quality of care. This is a serious problem that must be addressed if we want to have a healthy and productive population.

Another major issue is the issue of access to health care. Not everyone has equal access to health care, and this is a problem that must be solved. We need to ensure that everyone has access to the same quality of care, regardless of where they live or what their income is.

Finally, we need to focus on the issue of prevention. It is much easier and less expensive to prevent disease than it is to treat it. We need to invest more in prevention programs, such as smoking cessation and cancer screening, to reduce the burden of disease on the health care system.

In conclusion, the health care system in Canada is facing many challenges, but we can overcome them if we work together. We need to hold the government accountable for its actions, we need to ensure that everyone has access to the same quality of care, and we need to focus on prevention. Only then can we have a healthy and productive population.

Tips On Baby's Care

Do you know the right way to get a portfolio out of a baby's eye? The Federal Health Department's new pamphlet, "How to Remove a Foreign Object from a Child's Eye," tells you.

First of all, try to keep the baby from rubbing it. It helps a lot to bundle the baby to keep it from moving about while you're giving him care.

To dislodge the object, hold the upper lid down over the corner for a moment or two. This causes tears which wash the object out.

Washing out the eye with tepid eye-cold boiled water is the best way to remove an object which a quarter teaspoon of salt is added per cup. Do not use salt water if the object has floated into the baby's eye with a clean medicine dropper.

If the irritation continues, a doctor's help. Don't probe the eye.

Still Way Behind Times

Last week members of the Chamber listened to representatives of the Alberta Liquor Control Board invited to speak at their request after a number of inconvenient incidents in connection with obtaining permits and the serving of liquor at banquets and socials.

Basically nothing new came out, except to find out how one may get around some of the archaic (in our opinion) laws which govern the dispensing of liquor in this province.

We were told that Alberta has better liquor laws than some other provinces, even some of the states in the U.S. and in Britain. This may be true, but we have more archaic laws than we have it makes ours nonetheless archaic and changes nothing.

For instance, we were told that as a recreational activity, the curling club may not get a permit to serve liquor every night in its bar during a curling bonspiel. But if it promotes a social or banquet, knocks off the curling for an hour or two, then a permit could be obtained. Why go to all that trouble? Wouldn't it be much simpler all around to amend the laws to allow liquor served every night?

And now they are getting strict with a clause that forbids the advertising of any social for which a permit is issued. Because of this regulation which for some reason has been overlooked for years, St. Paul promoters of the Assumption winning ceremonies got into trouble, really.

Quite innocently and inadvertently, in a three day program of events which appeared in the St. Paul Journal, the dine and dance was included among other events for information to the public, not as a paid advertisement. In order that the function could be held as programmed, (it was impossible to cancel it after all arrangements had been made) over $300.00 of liquor and food had to be dispensed free to comply by the regulations. This might be called looking for trouble beyond the call of duty and on a technicality. We have just advised that announcements of socials are permissible if "Members and Sponsored Guests Only" is added to the message, but no tickets may be sold at the door.

The question of the controversial issue of serving liquor by the bottle instead of the inconvenient glasses method which requires more equipment, more waiters and more mess, and doesn't contain drinking any more was put to the speaker. He pointed out that the regulations on the bottle of permit could be sold by the glass, but if application is made, a special concession may be made under certain circumstances. Wine by the bottle is permissible at banquets and alcohol may be too.

Of course we all know the complications involved in trying to get something special from the liquor board. By the time it has been showed around from one level of authority to the other, the party is long gone. And experience proves that negative answers are more the rule than the exception.

We understand that there has to be certain rules and regulations to cover the abuse of liquor, prevent its commercializing by unscrupulous promoters. But why should the laws be made just in that light instead of considering that most permits are issued to law abiding respectable organizations and people who have no subversive intent but are simply out for some honest social entertainment.

And the concluding remarks by the speaker puts some doubt on the validity of the laws when he assumed the Chamber that if they ever run into a doubtful situation about obtaining a permit to get in touch with the liquor board they'll find a way to get around the red tape and let the wine flow.

Again we don't blame the enforcing agencies of the laws but the legislation which has to be amended to get some sense back into the picture. So keep on your M.A.'s. There's a new leader in the offing and maybe some changes of policies.

Report From Parliament Hill

Who should Canada's role be as NATO today and in the future? That is the question that has been asked on Parliament Hill frequently in recent days.

There are those who think that in the years of the recent invasion of Czechoslovakia by the Warsaw Pact countries there is a danger that NATO is being used as a shield for the United States to keep the United States out of the European continent. However, it has been said to support this line and to demand a change in the NATO charter. The NATO charter is a document which was signed in 1949 and it is a document which is being reviewed by the NATO member states.

A record 10 trainees are enrolled in the current training course at the Alberta Orderly School, 1968 - 69.

Should the entire class graduate, the number of trained orderlies in the province will have risen from 30 to 40.

The first class was conducted by the school, started September 10, 1968. The 10th trainee graduated on November 1.

The various trainees were given a one-day orientation course at the University of Alberta, followed by a one-day course at the Department of Health and Social Services, and a one-day course at the Department of Health and Social Services.

The school is a part of the provincial government's program to provide practical on-the-job training which makes up about half the course, with the balance of time devoted to classroom and hospital training.

Special facilities provide a complete hospital environment, including a laboratory, a library, a cafeteria, a pharmacy, a dental office, a personal hygiene unit, a radiology unit, and a laboratory.

SEARCHING FOR THREE LOST MEN
Despite the odds, relatives and friends of three men who went down in the World War II ship, the USS Arizona, are still searching for them. The men were last seen on the ship in 1941. The search continued Wednesday in the hope that they will be able to recover the missing men and their families will be able to see them.

County Of St. Paul To Build $110,000 Office

Construction Starts After New Year

The councilors of the County of St. Paul No. 10 voted unanimously in favor of building a new municipal office in St. Paul at a meeting last week.

And this is no exaggeration, but a much requested remedy from the cramped quarters the municipal and school administrations have to operate from.

Secretary-Treasurer Alfred Roy said the building will cost $110,000 and the contract is to be awarded to St. Paul Construction Ltd. of Edmonton.

Paul Babey Elected To 6th Term FUA

EDMONTON — It took an amendment to the constitution by the St. Paul Babey, resident in the province's chair of the Farmers' Union of Alberta.

The scrapping of a three-year limitation on office which, previously Babey opposed, in the 1967 convention, made the incumbent chair a permanent one. He was re-elected by acclamation.

But in his acceptance speech, Babey warned that he did not wish to become president for much longer. "I have seen on occasion where a man has held office so long that he has deteriorated in value."

Edmonton Babey has been president of the FUA since 1964. He was re-elected in 1967. He was re-elected in 1967. He was re-elected in 1967.

A^T CHRISTMAS

Joy to the World... Let every heart rejoice... For Christ is born in Bethlehem and the glory of His message shines forever, shines anew. Even as shepherds and wise men came to worship and be glad, so may each of us return in spirit to the sacred manger, there to find the peace and promise, the hope and happiness of the first Christmas. May the miracle of His birth and the wonder of His presence ever be our blessing and inspiration. And may this Christmas truly be, for you and yours, a season rich in joy and deep contentment. To our Many United Friends, We Extend a Heartfelt Thank You

Church Gets Tough

By Brian A. Brown

THEY were asked to stand on their own feet and to be responsible for their own actions. This was the message of the St. Paul Anglican Church's 10th anniversary service, held on Tuesday, January 14, at the church's new home in the heart of the city. The service was held in a large hall with a stage and a podium. The church is a new building with a modern design. The service was held in a large hall with a stage and a podium. Will the biplane (a) get the mail through in time?

Will the express train (b) stop before it reaches the missing track?

Will the Indians (c) attack the stage-coach (d)? Or the speeding Hummobile (e)? And that House on the hill (f)?

What's going on up there?

The biplane is not a flying machine, but a house on wheels. The express train is not a train, but a car. The Indians are not Indians, but a group of people. The stage-coach is not a coach, but a car. The Hummobile is not a car, but a car. The House on the hill is not a house, but a house.

The Chevrolet Value Showdown is on.

HOW MUCH ALCOHOL IN YOUR BLOOD?
Fernand Girard and Mike Warshawski, who volunteered for a breathalyzer test Saturday, show how the breathalyzer works. The device is a small, portable unit that measures the amount of alcohol in a person's breath. The device is a small, portable unit that measures the amount of alcohol in a person's breath.

BREATHING ALCOHOL

After a breathalyzer demonstration with five controlled "guinea pigs" the public was given an opportunity to see how it works and how to use a personal monitor. Here we see a group observing the monitor which determines the blood alcohol level.

Three Kinds Of Indians

Editorial from the "Indian News"

We read a lot in the newspaper today about what our Indian leaders think the reserve Indians want. Should we believe all of what we read? I have taken the liberty of separating the Indians into three categories and I leave the question up to you. Let's consider the Indians today in a realistic manner and rid ourselves of the old outlook.

Generally speaking, there are three distinct types of Indians. Indian number one. This fellow is at the bottom of the ladder. His wants and needs are many. His life is centered around the reserve system and he is really not interested in what is going on with regard to his well-being. His main interest is finding enough money to feed and clothe his growing family. His home might not be on a par with what we consider the ideal place to raise a family but under the circumstances he is satisfied with what he can call his own. He is used by all news media as being the stereotype Indian today.

Indian number two. This fellow is the one we never really hear about. He may live on or off the reserve and has a job that pays relatively well. He keeps his family in comfortable surroundings. His outlook is different because, for him, Indian Affairs Branch or the Indian Act, does not exist. They do not affect his personal life and as such he might be called a brown whiteman. He is aware of other Indians and their problems but takes little part in trying to help. He has learned the value of the dollar and spends wisely for his own benefit as well as his entire family.

Indian number three. Well intentioned but lives away from the reserve. This person was usually raised on the reserve and knows the problems first hand. He is in constant touch with the reserve and does everything possible to help alleviate the problem. His outlook is realistic. His ideas stem from personal experience, hard to speak interest among the Indian people. He is a capable leader and gives advice with little interest in monetary gain. His reward comes from doing the job well. His only weakness - if it may be called that - is in the fact that he lives away from the reserve and this can be attacked by others wanting to discredit him. His perseverance conquers all and he is truly a leader among leaders.

The next time you read an article about Indians, or, for Indians, try and remember the three main categories. You will note, over a period of time, that a pattern emerges which gives a clear picture of the true situation.

Work Attitudes In Teenagers

Employers often feel that the greatest deficit in most young people lies in their attitude to work - i.e., "Adolescents don't know what work is." Refusal to accept responsibility, unwillingness to finish a job, or to "do it right", at sacrifice of time and effort, is distressing to employers and has led some firms to place less emphasis on abilities and interests in hiring young people, and more weight on their attitude towards work.

Thus, the child who has been helped by his parents to accept responsibility, generally is better prepared for employment.

Retarded Children Need Love

Mentally retarded children may be very sensitive to their backwardness and unable to understand their inability to keep up with the crowd. If rejected to their bewilderment about their failures is the towering shame of their companions and the blame and shame of misunderstanding parents and teachers, it would be little wonder if they gave up trying.

For retarded children, as for all children, it is the nurturing, tender care, affection and patience which provides the support and incentive for the child to strike out, make mistakes and try again. This love and support is very necessary if they are to risk repeated failure and learn as much as they can.

EFFECTS OF THE COLD WEATHER SPELL

Everyone knows how cold it has been for the past three weeks and has been through some kind of a nightmare all the while. These pictures taken at high noon, with the sun trying to break through the clouds of vapor and fog caused by smogging chimneys and billowing cars have a neutral effect on the ability to see a rough, snow-covered driving with light on in the middle of the day. Fortunately the difficult conditions have ended and there were no serious accidents.

Foster Parents Are Preferred

The Alberta Department of Public Welfare has always preferred foster parents over institutional care for children who for some reason have been placed in the care of the state. This preference is based on the fact that foster parents can provide a more normal environment for the child, and the child can be placed in a family where he can receive the love and attention of a family. The department has been successful in placing many children in foster homes, and this has been a major achievement.

Applying for a foster child is a simple process. The prospective foster parent must be a Canadian citizen, at least 21 years of age, and have a good character. The department will conduct a background check on the applicant, and if approved, the foster parent will be assigned a child. The foster parent will receive a stipend for the child's care, and the child will be placed in the foster home for a period of time. The department will continue to monitor the foster parent and the child, and if necessary, the child can be removed from the foster home.

After the child has been placed in the foster home, the foster parent will receive a stipend for the child's care. The department will continue to monitor the foster parent and the child, and if necessary, the child can be removed from the foster home. The foster parent will receive a stipend for the child's care, and the child will be placed in the foster home for a period of time.

Submits Brief

The United Farmers of Alberta (U.F.A.) has submitted a brief to the provincial government regarding the proposed changes to the Agricultural Products Marketing Act (APMA).

The U.F.A. brief stated that the proposed changes to the APMA would result in a loss of control over the marketing of agricultural products. The U.F.A. argued that the proposed changes would result in a loss of control over the marketing of agricultural products, and that this would be detrimental to the interests of the farmers.

The U.F.A. also argued that the proposed changes would result in a loss of control over the marketing of agricultural products, and that this would be detrimental to the interests of the farmers. The U.F.A. requested that the government withdraw the proposed changes to the APMA.

Community Calendar

The Boy Scouts organization have finally accomplished something that has been discussed, commissioned, planned, but never executed, when they published this week a community calendar listing a schedule of meetings and events which occur daily in our community.

In addition the calendar contains on the last page a list of most of the organizations in this town with the names of the executives for reference to anyone who is trying to make contact for one reason or another.

It also lists the names of some of the leading persons in town and emergency phone numbers for quick reference and use.

This was no mean task to accomplish and the credit goes to the executive of the new Boy Scout and Girl Guides Council from both towns who have recently amalgamated into one unit in the Town of St. Paul to prevent duplication in the spirit of ecumenism and Christian Unity. One example of the calendar is being accomplished when divisions are joined in mutual co-operation and understanding.

Producing this type of a job costs money and the finances in greater part from the kind assistance of business men in the community who bought advertisements which border the calendar. Don't forget these fine supporters of community effort when you have something to buy in their line of merchandise in the future.

1000 of these calendars were printed and it is hoped a little more money will be raised over and above that cost at all points so that they can make a few dollars to carry out their training and work. In a few days you may expect a Boy Scout to call on your door to sell you one of these and a kind reception would be appreciated.

You will be encouraging them and at the same time getting a valuable information piece that will help you in scheduling your community activities without inconvenience and duplication.

The Boy Scouts thank you in advance

Doctors Quit Smoking

More doctors than is commonly realized are setting a good health example by giving up smoking, according to The Medical Post.

Dr. R. M. Taylor of Toronto, executive director of the National Cancer Institute of Canada, says that a 10-year survey of doctors shows a reduction of 50 per cent (from 52% to 24%) in ten years of the doctors' smokers. "Apparently a reflection of the mounting evidence that smoking is a hazard to one's health."

However, says Dr. Taylor, physicians still have a responsibility to set a good example to their patients. He says it is astonishing that many practitioners still prescribe "through a haze of smoke" even when dealing with malignancies caused by the habit.

Dr. Taylor thinks it is distressing that up to $20 million a year is spent in Canada to prepare cigarette and tobacco commercials for television, when only $5 million is spent preparing material which warns of malignant diseases and the dangers of smoking.

Don't Mix Drugs

Taking some drugs with other drugs without your doctor's approval is extremely dangerous, says the federal health department publication, "Drugs—Handle with Care."

For instance, some drugs may intensify the action of other drugs, as occurs when barbiturates and some analgesics are taken simultaneously. Alcohol also may intensify the effects of some types of drugs. Drug with similar effects may result in overdoses if taken together. On the other hand, drugs with opposite effects may work against each other.

"Drugs—Handle with Care" is available free of charge from your provincial or federal health department.

Council Raise in Line

A few weeks ago the town councilors voted themselves an increase in salary of $10.00 to $30.00 and the Mayor up to $30.00 per meeting.

A few tongues wagged complaining that the councilors, although they were trying to hold the line on general expenses, did not hesitate to increase their spend.

From our point of view we feel that council salaries of ten dollars a meeting which they have to do on the side and listen to the complaints of the rate payers intruding in their private life at almost any hour of the day, for which they receive no remuneration and for something most of the people are not aware of.

As a matter of fact, we think that paying the mayor a measly $30.00 per meeting for his services is almost an insult, when you consider that he more than anyone of the councilors is called upon for public duties almost every other day. Do you realize how many official openings of schools, organizations, conventions and meetings the mayor attends, the time and effort in preparing speeches, the public relations job he has to do for the town, the number of seminars and executive meetings he has to go to on his own time, getting the bare minimum for his expenses?

St. Paul has been fortunate to get the good government it has been getting from its councilors for a minimum of a cent. Perhaps in some areas, if the councilors received more for their efforts, they might have saved the Town money by being able to give more supervision to certain projects.

The public works department, for instance, could stand more attention from the councilors of that committee. Perhaps if it had been worth it councilors in charge of overseeing the arena construction might have been closer to the project and hastened its completion earlier.

Municipal administration is getting more complex every day with greater demands on the men who have to make the decisions, the reason that more heads are needed. Although, we know that more of the councilors are there for the money they may be getting out of it, a little appreciation of the nature of the almost voluntary service they are giving our town should be expressed.

They are not infallible, they make a mistakes they aren't satisfied of us all the time, but they are making a sincere and honest effort, so let's not be mercenary.

Ice Safety

In Canada we are lucky. Every year we experience the wonderfully brisk and invigorating days of winter and early spring and enjoy the fun and pleasure associated with them.

We indulge in our favorite winter sports, some relatively safe, others extremely hazardous. We are for a few months creatures of snow and ice. Two of the most popular popular seasonable pastimes, snowmobiling and ice-fishing, can be dangerous sports tempered with caution. There are repeated reports of snowmobilers breaking through thin ice. One example of a close call, quoted by the participant - "My machine broke the ice and nearly went through but by accelerating fast I was able to get out and landed on firm ice". Note luck that good management, a poor hook can have a life on ice-fishing, also a popular sport, draws thousands of Canadians to ice covered perils. Quite a few of their own peril.

Last year there were twenty-eight cases of drowning on ice-covered lakes across the country. Many of these cases were due to the victims not knowing local ice conditions before venturing beyond commonly used areas.

A. W. Thielson, Canadian Red Cross National Director of Water Safety, urges extreme caution

Philippine Teachers Serving in District

In reply for a teaching position in Canada.

Philippine Teachers are now accepting applications for teaching positions in Canada. They are looking for teachers who are qualified and who are willing to work in a multicultural environment.

On a recent visit to Canada, the Philippine Teachers Association met with the Canadian Education Association to discuss the possibility of a reciprocal exchange program.

The Philippine Teachers Association is a non-profit organization that is dedicated to the improvement of the Philippine education system. It is also a member of the International Association of Teachers.

The Canadian Education Association is a non-profit organization that is dedicated to the improvement of the Canadian education system. It is also a member of the International Association of Teachers.

The reciprocal exchange program would allow Philippine teachers to work in Canada for a period of one to two years. In return, Canadian teachers would be able to work in the Philippines for a similar period.

The program is currently in the planning stages and is expected to be implemented in the near future. For more information, contact the Philippine Teachers Association at Box 100, St. Paul, Alberta.

New Arena Film Big Need

The opening of the new St. Paul arena Saturday night, filled a big need in the community. Although towns of contemporary size, it had become obsolete and fallen behind the times, compared to most in the district.

But being first sometimes places you last, so a greater effort had to be made to get back in the running again. It was gratifying to see the voters vote in favor of the arena when a plebiscite was proposed for it and afterwards to refrain from objecting when the town declared itself in favor of going ahead.

The almost record attendance of 1450 p.a.i.d., plus the children the first night and continued enjoyment of hockey on Sunday when three games were played to large audiences proves its worth.

We'll admit it's not quite finished yet — there is painting to be done, more seats to add, parking lot has to be cleared — but time will take care of that and we'll have one of the finest recreational facilities centered around the exhibition grounds.

We were pleased to note that Mayor Jules Van Broek in his opening remarks acknowledged the contribution Clarence Richard has made to the cause of hockey in coaching, and managing the Junior Nationals for almost a decade, to produce some of the finest hockey talent in St. Paul. Many of his boys have had the opportunity of working up in Junior hockey and a few of them made the ranks of provincial amateur and national hockey clubs.

No doubt "Clancy" is Mr. Juventia Hockey in St. Paul and we shudder to think what would happen to that class of hockey if he was forced out of it.

The Mayor also expressed appreciation to the people of Bonnyville who have permitted St. Paul to play many of its home games there when we were without an arena. Inspire of all the healthy rivalry which exists, they were very good sports about it and we are certain all the fans in St. Paul recognize and appreciate the fine gesture.

The players from both the Rockets and Juventus clubs along with their executive members also deserve a pat on the back for the voluntary effort they put in painting the fence which was not on the specs, and accepting the responsibility of many of the last minute chores which could never have been completed successfully without them to permit the opening Saturday night which had already been delayed too long.

We wish them success for the rest of the season, and look forward to greater hockey days in St. Paul. We have a new arena, the enthusiasm of the fans which we hope will continue to manifest itself in the future.

Weeklies Concerned Strength Of Unions

At its annual presentation to the Provincial Cabinet, the Alberta Weekly Newspaper Association expressed concern at the power and influence the unions are exerting on our economy and way of life.

Following is excerpt from the brief, which the St. Paul Journal heartily endorses.

"As citizens of this province we are in a very real way concerned about the almost absolute and dangerous strength being permitted to develop among various unions without apparent consideration for their obligations to the community. We are convinced that no privilege can be conferred or accepted without offsetting responsibility as a corollary, yet in too many instances we feel the rights of the public, which conferred this privilege in the first place, are being negated by the thrust of the unions for absolute power. We feel it is past time when limitations should be made to restrict or contain such drives in the public interest."

LAST MINUTE PREPARATIONS

There are always last minute details to look after when something new is opened. It was no exception for the opening of St. Paul's new arena Saturday night as "Franky" Biddle left the goal post, on the left, Clarence Richard straps and mauls the ice in the arena with the help of Frank Jolly.

CROWD WATCHES FIRST HOCKEY GAME IN ARENA

Part of the 1400 plus crowd watching the St. Paul Rockets play the Bonnyville Rockets, the first hockey game in the new arena Saturday night. The arena is designed for seating capacity of 3000, but facilities for only 1500 are being provided temporarily.

GREEN ACRES

St. Paul, Alberta. A large crowd of people gathered outside the arena for the first hockey game.

Who was going to score the first goal in the new St. Paul arena Saturday night was decided when Roland Pontreux from about 8 feet in front of the goal scored the first goal.

No Interest in School

Last week we attended the annual meeting of the St. Paul School District No. 2228 to listen to the reading of the financial statement, and the reports from the school principals and trustees.

There were 19 persons present. But when you consider that it is the duty of the trustees to be there, the principals are involved with reports along with a few interested teachers, there were only two real payers present. And one of them was a councillor, the other the Secretary-Treasurer of the Town, who have indirect interest, with the last person a news reporter, there was actually no one there with an outside interest in the affairs of the school.

Education is a big and complex thing nowadays — an item which takes the largest chunk of the provincial budget and accounts for the biggest part of the taxes paid by any ratepayer.

However, no one seems to care, and the parents are only heard from when Little Johnny gets his face slapped (we say this politely because it hardly ever happens in this modern permissive way of education) or there is a personal problem which involves one of the children.

They are not interested in what it costs to educate a child, although they demand the best and are heard profusely when things just don't happen the way they think they should.

No one ever recognizes the amount of voluntary work, the trustees place in the administration of the schools which require management ability to the highest degree and keeping up with the ever-changing times.

Although we don't always agree with the attitudes and demands of the ATA, we feel the teaching profession deserves a lot of credit. It is becoming more complex occupation, witness the evaluation seminar this week which was deep and profound. For the teachers who are making a sincere effort to keep up with the changes and the new methods it requires some conscientious and serious participation, that goes beyond their ordinary classroom duties.

From the reports of the meeting, we found nothing serious to criticize, but rather are inclined to congratulate the trustees of the School Board for the fine job they did in holding the line in the face of mounting costs, and provincial government restrictions they have to govern themselves under, always bearing in mind that they requisition funds and do have the power to raise operational money.

Education Is For Everybody

Education is for everybody. This is the theme for Education Week, 1969, sponsored in Alberta by the Alberta Education Council, and being observed throughout the province March 2nd to 29th this year.

Engineers, doctors, lawyers, professors and teachers have always appreciated the importance of education, but in the last decade we have been experiencing a revolution in learning which brings the need for education home to virtually everyone, whether the secretary and clerk at the office, the worker on the construction project, and the housewife at home. Activities as simple as buying supplies at the supermarket, managing one's personal finances, or even communicating with people — all involve skills and knowledge which one derives, formally or informally, from a process we call education.

The Alberta Education Council believes that education is for everybody, and during Education Week the Council makes a special effort to bring the challenges of education to the attention of everybody.

While we're on the subject of education, may we direct your attention to the special education supplement in this issue which has been prepared under the theme "Education is for Everybody" by members of the St. Paul ATA local. Many good ideas are presented and it will provide you with a broader view on education.

TEACHERS GO BACK TO SCHOOL

Teachers have in the same basement room there is a group who are taking education seriously at a seminar on teacher evaluation, held Friday and Saturday in St. Paul sponsored by the local ATA branch at their own request on behalf of better education.

We are Northern Alberta Distributors for Canadian Motor Industries, and we're looking for aggressive dealer representation in your area.

With the full and complete line of Toyota and Isuzu automobiles, we offer you a unique opportunity to profit with Canada's fastest growing line of imported cars.

We know what we're talking about. As distributors for over ten years we had the first Volkswagen franchise in the province — and because we... when it comes to imported cars, we know how to pick the best performance, quality, dependable price... you can't beat Toyota and Isuzu. They're a terrific investment!

In the December issue of Truck and Traffic Magazine, writer F. David Stone had this to say about the Toyota system: "IF YOU GET THE IMPRESSION THAT WE LAY THIS LITTLE BOMB THEN THE MESSAGE IS COMING ACROSS LOUD AND CLEAR NO CRUMBS, CAR FUNCTIONAL AND STRAIGHT FORWARD AND AT $18,100 IT MUST BE CANADA'S FINEST VALUE!"

From the top of the history line Toyota cares for the immediate need, gives the Buyer what I'll have a car to match every customer's taste or budget. And they won't leave the buyer alone. That's one of the reasons why Toyota and Isuzu is the company the "General Motors of Japan."

If your customers use four wheel drive equipment, the Toyota Land Cruiser will be used extensively by the Alberta Government, is the best choice for the Saskatchewan oil field and in Yukon, Yuba, Yukon, Ford, Ford

Junior Citizen Award

Each year Canadian Utilities Limited and Alberta's public utility companies with the co-operation of the Alberta Weekly Newspaper Association sponsor the annual Alberta Junior Citizen of the year award.

Nominations are received from every part of the province, followed by judging and the presentation of awards at the annual convention of the Alberta Weekly Newspaper Association.

This is considered a unique promotion to recognize young people for outstanding achievements, not necessarily heroes, but of the nature of good citizens through a sense of responsibility towards their families or a community project.

St. Paul had a nomination about six years ago and sent a young man to the convention to receive an award. Since then, however, the response to the appeal which is made each year about this time, (see advertisement in the St. Paul Journal from Canadian Utilities, February 26th) has been far from encouraging.

Persons in the education field, such as superintendents, principals and teachers are in a good position to know about worthwhile nominations and their co-operation along with that of anyone who knows of some deserving young boy or girl or group, are invited to send in their nominations to the St. Paul Journal as soon as possible so that the applications can be processed and judged in time for the awards day next September.

We are certain there are young people in this community and the area this newspaper serves who spend difficult circumstances or during illness have displayed exceptional qualities of responsibility, resourcefulness and leadership. It might not be a feat or dramatic as saving a person's life - perhaps the young person you know has exhibited an unusual sense of responsibility in assuming home and community duties. Whatever, these young people deserve your support. Recognize their deeds by nominating them for an Alberta Junior Citizens Award. It will only take a few minutes to fill in the coupon in our February 26th issue, call in on us or write the details down. We will take it from there. Hope we'll be hearing from you soon!

Post Office Honor Contracts

Postmaster General Eric Kierans announced on February 27 that the Post Office will honor its contracts for post office box rentals signed before the increased postal box rentals took effect.

Whether or not the Post Office would honor these contracts was in some doubt.

In January a departmental circular was issued instructing Postmasters to demand double payment from people who had signed postal box rental contracts before January 21.

Gerard Croven, Editor of the Ridgeway Dominion first raised protests against this irregular practice. The management of this company (the publishers of the paper) knows of no other department with such high handed practices he said in a lead article of January 30.

Mac T. McCutcheon (P.C., Lambton-Kent) and Heath Macquarrie (P.C., Hillsborough) brought the matter to the Minister's attention by way of questions on the Order Paper and question time.

The Minister's announcement of February 27 was made in response to a question by McCutcheon.

Postmasters will now be required to drop further demands for double payment and also pay back those who had met earlier demands.

McCutcheon commented: "If the Postmaster General were not so obsessed with making every part of the post office pay for itself, and if he had not tried to break the standard business practice of honoring contracts, this whole costly mess would never have happened."

This shows that what the protest of one individual can do. If no one had objected, we wouldn't have known to raise the matter in the House, and these double rents would have been charged all across the country."

Welcome To Bishop Gagnon

In this day of ecumenical spirit, it is proper that the local newspaper, regardless of its affiliations, should welcome a new Bishop to St. Paul, and it is with pleasure that we extend sincere congratulations as well to His Excellency Edouard Gagnon on his appointment to the head of the St. Paul Diocese and his consecration which will take place in the R.C. Cathedral, Tuesday March 25th at 2:00 p.m.

When Bishop Lusier resigned last fall due to ill health, the papal delegate was despatched to St. Paul and all parts of the diocese to conduct a survey on the wishes of the people in the selection of a new Bishop.

His appointment had been expected sooner, but the complexity of the selection held off the decision longer than it should have normally.

We regret very much, that after the appointment had been announced, a few of the priests in the diocese objected on the grounds that Bishop Gagnon was an easterner. Even admitting that there might have been some justification for the opposition, we feel it should have been confined to a protest to the papal delegate himself without the undue publicity it received in some of our papers who jumped at the chance for some sensational journalism.

Issues of this kind are better contained, because the damage done is always much greater than the little it may achieve.

However, judging from the qualifications of our new Bishop, his spirit of charity in Christ, we know he will be magnanimous enough to forgive and overlook the efforts of this diocese objectively in the spirit of Christianity.

We are looking forward to your arrival along with the people of St. Paul who are pleased that you choose to be consecrated here.

Alberta's Damp Grain

Although the damp grain picture in Alberta has improved during the last month to six weeks, there is still a large volume on farms that will not be dried by spring.

It appears that the 50 to 60 commercial dryers that have been set up by various grain companies or near their elevators will be unable to handle all the damp grain estimated to be on farms at the present time.

Although many of these dryers have been operating round the clock since the weather warmed up, farmers are still not taking full advantage of this service. Apparently many are still banking on being able to dispose of excessively tough and damp stocks through regular commercial channels before the arrival of the warm weather. However, the chances of such a solution to the problem are very remote indeed.

Reports indicate that most of the bigger farmers in the province have either had their grain dried or have made arrangements to have it dried. It is the smaller operators with 800 to 2,000 bushels of tough or damp grain that are having difficulty. They cannot afford a dryer, even if three or four of them come together, and the majority of grain dryer operators doing custom work are not interested in small lots.

Not Refundable

The new policy that all applications for second class mailing privileges must be accompanied by $15, has a second requirement that may not be noticed at first glance. This second requirement is that even the publication that is successful in its request will be subject to an annual application.

The Montreal Gazette has been using the mails for 170 years or some such thing, the Toronto Globe and Mail and its predecessor The Globe under George Brown since 1844. Both of these publications will have to re-apply every year and municipalities publishers should note that "the $15 is non-refundable."

WINNERS OF MIXED OPEN SPIEL

St. Paul risks took all the honours in the annual mixed open Spiel over the weekend, including risk played by Mrs. Warkentin. Christopher Leadership Graduation

A group of nearly forty who enrolled in Christopher Leadership courses in the early part of January completed the 20 weeks this week and celebrated their graduation with a concluding reception at the St. Paul school cafeteria.

Hosted by Father Keller, that mass of good-will, regardless of race or religion can get together and learn from each other, through free will and determination, the course proved very successful.

The program for the evening at which guests were invited was everyone's choice to attend and show to what extent the course had been of value.

From the remarks of the table, it was apparent that the graduates were well prepared to face the future.

Good Weather Blamed For Large Town Deficit

Only two categories were at the annual meeting to find out that there was an operational deficit of $97,121.10 for the fiscal year ending December 31, 1968.

The weather girls blamed for most anything that this could be the first time that it has been reported of being that reason for a town deficit, especially since weather.

March Is Good Seed Month

Successful Farmers Use Good Seed

There is a very real and growing concern among successful farmers about the quality of the seed they use. The fact is, the seed is the foundation of the crop. If the seed is poor, the crop will be poor. If the seed is good, the crop will be good.

Successful farmers know this. They use the best seed available. They use seed that is pure, true, and of high vigor. They use seed that is free from disease and insect infestation. They use seed that is well adapted to the soil and climate of the area.

They know that good seed is the key to a successful crop. They know that good seed is the key to a profitable farm. They know that good seed is the key to a better life.

New Varieties Bring More Yields

The development of new varieties of crops is a continuous process. It is a process that has led to the development of many new and improved varieties of crops. These new varieties have brought about a significant increase in yields and have made it possible for farmers to produce more food for a growing population.

The new varieties are the result of years of research and development. They are the result of the hard work of scientists and farmers. They are the result of the cooperation between the government and the private sector.

The new varieties are a testament to the power of science and technology. They are a testament to the human spirit. They are a testament to the progress of mankind.

MINISTER DECLARES GOOD SEED MONTH

Declaring March Good Seed Month, Alberta Agricultural Minister H. A. Ruste, today announced that the month of March is Good Seed Month in Alberta.

Minister Ruste said that the declaration of March as Good Seed Month was a recognition of the importance of seed to the agricultural industry. He said that the declaration was a way of encouraging farmers to use good seed and to support the seed industry.

PEDIGREED SEED
PROGRAMMED FOR PROFIT

EACH SEED is a tiny computer programmed for top quality, high yield.

New varieties are programmed by plant breeders to give you:

- Increased yield
- Increased resistance to diseases and insects
- Increased resistance to frost and drought

Field testing determines best variety for your area.

Seed Growers analyze new varieties of seed for genetic purity and genetic supervision.

New varieties are at your seed dealers.

LOOK TO THE BLUE TAG FOR:

- High germination
- High purity
- Genetic supervision

100% GUARANTEE

YOUR AGRICULTURAL SERVICE BOARD

INSISTS THAT

is a must in this age of increased farming costs

When pedigreed seed is used, a high degree of freedom from disease and weed seeds is assured and you can look for high germination and uniformity of maturity because of the freedom of variety. Please remember the seed you sow is the most important factor in your whole crop program. Get your seed early as oats and barley seeds may be in short supply.

Your Agricultural Service Board is actively involved in a program to reduce the weed population in the County of St. Paul. You can do your share by using clean seed.

Agricultural Committee members are:

Bob Smith, Chairman; Claude Mowbray, John Drake, John Labadie, St. Paul; Robert Agnew, St. Paul; David Laidlaw, St. Paul; Secretary-Treasurer, A. Roy, St. Paul.

Barn Is Lost In Fire

Over 300 one-month-old chicks, charging $100 a piece, were lost in a fire which destroyed the barn of Robert J. Smith, a Sunday morning.

Firemen were called to the scene about 11:15 a.m. to the western limits of the town.

Firemen had to contend with a fire which was spreading rapidly. The barn was destroyed and the fire spread to the house.

The fire was caused by a spark from a stove. The fire spread to the house and the barn was destroyed.

Health Plan Creates Problems For Druggists

The Alberta Health Plan got away to a shaky start a few years ago when it was introduced in the Province of Alberta. For the first six months, doctors and druggists had to wait for their fees and some of them had to carry the plan to the extent of thousands of dollars. Although payments have been improved with the advent of computers, the accounts receivable are still high and the payments too slow in coming. But now another problem has cropped up which is causing a headache to druggists who will have to start dispensing aspirins to themselves.

Many cancellations of the plan have occurred, and along with delinquent payments, the computers are striking subscribers off the lists, before the suppliers are advised and consequently medicine is being given to people who are not covered or are behind in their premiums. I suspect that many of those who have cancelled are deliberately withholding the information from the druggist and continue to claim prescriptions on the plan. Those who are delinquent and bring their payments up to date are not covered for the delinquent period.

And so the poor druggist who is plagued in making the meticulous claims on reams of application forms has to check off his lists, reimburse the delinquents with the prospect of losing many of his accounts to people who will claim they were covered when actually they were not.

One druggist in this town had a list of rejections amounting to $900, another $400 and when you consider that these are made up in $1.00, $2.00 and $3.00 items, it is going to require hours of a paper work to straighten out the whole mess. What can be done about it? It is doubtful, but it points out to what extent a welfare state can lead too and the difficulties which can arise with too much government interference in the private lives of its citizens.

True, it may have its benefits for those who are able to capitalize on this type of thing, but someone has to pay for it in the long run, and the extra administration cost of medicine is falling back on the taxpayers which are already overburdened and in a sorry state of breakdown under the load, leading to economic chaos.

New Jobs Available

There are about 5,000 publications in Canada at present allowed second class mailing privileges. The processing of applications by this group at $15 per paper would be $75,000 according to old-fashioned arithmetic.

If Mr. Keeron's new rules do not put too many of them out of business, this will be a nice little sum, a tidy sum, for the postmaster-general to pick up without doing anything for it that has to be done. Of course, it will not be all clear profit. There will have to be more people working for the postmaster-general to deal with applications and to check publishers' records so it is highly probable that the number of people working in the post office department will increase.

Supervision of mailing privileges by a big bureaucracy comes seriously close to a form of licensing and a licensed press is a curtailment of the freedom of the press. Despite what Mr. Keeron says about efficiency and costs it is vital that those who express their views not be gagged.

Give Them A Place To Start

Canada's labor market will soon be flooded with a record number of students seeking jobs. This annual job-hunting spree has reached crisis proportions for the simple reason that summer employment opportunities apparently have not kept pace with the swelling student enrollments.

Unless something substantial is done to expand job opportunities, a lot of young people could well experience the frustrations of a jobless summer. There could be demands for more student loans. Valuable time would be lost in training these young people to make their contribution to the community.

Friday evening the curling fraternity got together for the last time this season. It was the big end-of-year party at which trophies for the winners of the male local events were presented. Memorandum

R.H. H.

St. Paul, Alberta

Everyone knows the story of the land where a farm lived in this area and then it was a great estate where the most famous changes would go on in the land. During the past decade there have been so many new houses built in the area that the old estate has been almost completely forgotten.

Building a farm house to mark different from building one to a house. Farm families require a different house plan than do urban families. A farm house already includes a utility room on the main floor and near the rear entrance with a wash up area close to it. A house built as a farm house must be able to serve as a home for the family and also as a place where the family can live and work.

The farm house must be planned especially in relation to the use of the land. The house

Mobile Power Station

The first mobile station to be brought into Alberta was recently constructed for the Canadian National Railway.

Designed and built by the Electric Company Ltd. of Toronto, the $100,000 unit has a electrical capacity of 20,000 kilowatts, sufficient to handle the needs of a city of about 100,000 people.

The station is so designed that it will be available for use during any emergency. It can be moved down the road in 15 minutes and the unit is designed to be moved by the use of temporary service roads, eliminating the need for permanent roads.

The unit, mounted on a three-axle trailer, is 40 feet long, 12 feet wide and 10 feet high. It is built of steel and is completely self-contained. It is completely self-contained and can be put into operation within 15 minutes.

Canadian and Northwest Utilities already have three mobile power plants in service in various parts of the province as emergency power supplies. These units are also used by local governments and private industry.

Science has been able to create a mobile power plant that is self-contained and can be moved anywhere and anytime. It is a truly remarkable achievement.

Double Parking Out

No one will deny that parallel parking is here to stay. It took a long time in coming and will worth the powers that be of its desirability, but is well worth it in wide streets opening up to flowing traffic.

However, one difficulty has cropped up. Because there is more space on the width, motorists have got into the bad habit of double parking, to run into the post office, the vendors and other business places, destroying the advantage of parallel parking, forcing the traffic to either stop or move around the parked vehicles causing more traffic hazards.

The police announced last week that this is a violation contrary to by-law and that they will start issuing tickets to those persons who continue to disregard the law and the rights of other people.

No one has the right to double park and interfere with a normal traffic for whatever reason. We know St. Paul is a small town and it is difficult to enforce strictly some of the laws that are in effect, like the cities do, but if the motorist public continues to be inconsiderate, they just will have to be enforced, in our opinion.

There is a lot of parking room on the off streets and in vacant lots, but here again there is a great amount of abuse. People park indiscriminately, bottling up other cars, without regard to anyone but themselves.

You're not the only people on the beach and a little forethought will go a long way in keeping everybody happy and fenders from being crunched by hit and run drivers.

It's either that or look in the future for parking meters, or one hour parking, no parking signs on private properties with violations accompanied for infractions, all of which are unpleasant and inconvenient.

Think Before Leaping

St. Paul has the reputation of being a good supporting town for cultural promotions and consequently there are many requests for entertainment to perform here. Most of the time these turn out to be very successful and continue to enhance the name of the town.

However, every once in a while some one undertakes the sponsorship of some group and falls down on the job with the consequent result that failures crop up and a lot of disappointment is experienced all the way around. This has happened on several occasions in the past few months.

If anyone is asked to sponsor a concert, musical, film, the first step is to assess the situation completely and find out if this kind of entertainment will appeal to the public and what its chances of success are.

If in a considered opinion, the outlook is good, the sponsoring organization has the responsibility to make a sincere effort to assure success. This can best be done by a planned advertising program well ahead of time to stimulate interest. Make a case that there are no other conflicting promotions that might interfere. The members should also make every effort within their organization to support such a project and make sure other people are aware of it through the sale of advance tickets and talk. If up as much as possible.

We always feel sorry for entertainers, many of them amateurs, who come a long way and weary and time for nothing except big disappointments. All these people want to do at the most is break even and the simple reward that they have played to an appreciative audience.

It makes the town look bad when these things are a flop and does little to enhance its image. Better not have anything than something that will backfire.

Service Stations Urged To Pay Premium On U.S. $

American visitors to Canada have been wailing indignantly about the way their dollars are treated by retail business in this country, with service stations getting a heavy share of the brickbats.

Apparently the tourists are finding it hard to get service station attendants and operators to give them a premium on their bills. The U.S. green stuff is being accepted only at par in many outlets.

Probably much of the trouble comes from operators who might gladly give exchange on the U.S. dollars themselves but omit to tell their help to do the same. But, it might also be remembered that the sales or eight cents which an operator might allow on the tourist's dollar might never reach the customer.

It's all too easy for light-fingered employees to pocket it and tell the customer "we don't pay the premium". The easy way around this, is to post prominent signs around the station telling U.S. motorists that the exchange is paid. Canadian Automobile Trade believes it's a shortsighted policy to refuse to pay the exchange on U.S. currency, treating those who proffer it as transient, "never again" customers. No matter that the Canadian dollar gets even shorter or shrill on the other side, it did even when ours was at the peak. Teach 'em by example! Those Yankee dollars should be treated, not discouraged.

Participate In Government

Canadians have never taken the active, continuing interest in their government that one finds in the United States where Washington is never in doubt about how the voters at home feel, comments editor John Downey in Home Goods Retailing. Canadians tend to sit back after an election and wait to see what happens.

With the exception of a few trade, business and labor associations who have learned their opinions and advice are welcome in the decision-making process, in Ottawa most Canadian businessmen make no attempt to participate in public affairs.

Retailers have a duty to themselves and the nation itself, as businessmen, employers, tax collectors and taxpayers, says Downey, to make their views known in Ottawa. Membership in a trade association is not enough, he adds; individual action through letters to Members of Parliament and the Prime Minister is required.

Downey's advice: "Write on matters that come within your experience and you will be doing something worthwhile for democracy, yourself and government."

Strikes Or Coffee Breaks
Which Eats Up More Time?

The excess time spent by employees on coffee breaks is greater than the total time lost by companies in strikes, a university professor said.

"You hear a great deal of talk about last time due to strikes," said Dr. Vernon Jensen, associate dean of Cornell University's School of Industrial Relations.

"Well, they should just take a look at the time lost on those long coffee breaks."

Mr. Jensen was speaking at a conference sponsored by the Canadian Council of Churches and Jews and attended by representatives of labour, management and government.

William Dodge, secretary-treasurer of the Canadian Labour Congress, asked Mr. Jensen for the source of his statistics, commenting that it would be "very handy in negotiations".

Mr. Jensen replied "all you need to do it go and just count the lost time".

He added that he was referring to both organized and unorganized operations and said that coffee breaks are sometimes more strictly controlled where there is a union, whereas in unorganized firms a more tolerant view is taken.

Legislative Report

By Tony On

The Blair Report, a major legislative initiative of the government, is being presented to the public in a series of public hearings.

It requires mental health services in the province should be completely reorganized.

Dr. W. R. H. Blair, head of the department of psychology at the University of Calgary, has the first line of authority to go to the cabinet.

The report was commissioned last year after former Premier Peter Lougheed's resignation.

Dr. Blair said the report is a "blueprint" for the future of mental health services in Alberta.

Upset Farmers

Good Or Bad?

As the farmers are prepared to go back to the land as they might well want their share, they don't have to do so as these pioneer farmers, Fred Carlson and son Charney did in the early 1880s. Hence pulling the breaking plow was a common sight, having a predecessor heritage to them who followed. Photos courtesy Mrs. Carlson.

Spring Fire Hazards

Spring fire prevention involves, among other things, careful control of open fires. We should all think twice before kindling any fire in rubbish piles, dry grass or stubble. The winds are fitful and lack of green growth makes yards and fields subject to quick fire spread. Last year in Alberta April and May produced the largest losses of any two months of the year and the largest fire of the year was in the month of May.

Perhaps a word of caution about paint pots and paint thinner is timely in the spring, also, great care should be taken in handling. Flammable solvents used for paint brush cleaning. It is best to mix paint and clean paint brushes in an outside building or in the yard and to destroy oil waste thinnings and paint rags at the end of the day's work. Accidents with spilled paint thinners and spontaneous heating of paint rags have caused many fires.

Don't have spring clean-up result in a spring burn up. Discuss with your family their responsibility in preventing fires.

Child Safety Observance

Communities across Canada are being asked to observe CHILD SAFETY WEEK from May 4-10. In Alberta, the Safety Council suggests Child Safety Week is a good time for every community to organize a Pedal Pusher Club bicycle safety campaigns, and courses for baby sitters.

Previously, the Child Safety campaign was a one-day effort, held on the same day right across the country. However, the rising child accident situation is so serious it calls for an expanded effort.

This year, the campaign outlines the extent of child fatalities and injuries. New hazards for children presented by our complex world are pointed out in campaign material made available by the Canada Safety Council.

As its part in Child Safety Week 1969, the Alberta Safety Council offers two proven safety programs available to all Albertans.

Pedal Pusher Clubs can be organized by a neighborhood group anywhere in the province. All that is required is an organization kit available free from the Alberta Safety Council in Edmonton.

A second program for child safety is the highly regarded Baby Sitters Course also available from the Alberta Safety Council. It is to be presented anywhere in Alberta where an interested local organization is ready to accept responsibility for running it.

Child Safety Week should be observed by everyone every week of the year. One way to start is to put these two Alberta Safety Council programs to work in this community during Child Safety Week.

Housing Off To Strong Start

Houses are being built at frantic pace in Canada this spring despite a tight, expensive mortgage market, according to Philip Mathias in The Financial Post. If the growth of the first three months is kept up, it will take the housing industry to the limit of its capacity in 1969. Housing starts for the first three months are up 47 per cent from the same period, 1968. The Financial Post writer says that, compared to the industry's performance in 1968, are reluctant to believe this killing pace will be sustained. One official told The Financial Post it is only a question of time before the house building activity starts to slow down. Early indicators for April, however, suggest rates are still at a high rate.

Stoodstill For Year

Although there was a raise of 4 mills in the taxation levy for the town of St. Paul, when the council brought down its budget last week, the taxpayers would be happy and thankful that the increase was kept down to that point.

Nobody wants to pay any more taxes than they have to, but on the other hand there is a school of thought that the right kind of investment at the right place and the right time is sometimes more profitable in the long run.

The council was able to hold the line to the extent that they did by cutting and sacrificing many needed improvements in this town, that will have to wait for a later date and may cost money eventually.

The program that will suffer the most due to the curtailment is paving. The Town of St. Paul is years behind in its street paving, probably through no fault of the ruling council, but a lack of foresight ten and fifteen years ago when more emphasis should have been placed on it.

As it stands now many of the experimentally paved streets have broken down completely to the point that they are worse than gravel, preventing even a reasonable amount of maintenance, and are hazardous. No one has to go through s.p.e.d limits on these roads.

We understand that the town had an extraordinary expense in the arena last year, but here again the issue had been postponed too long and sooner or later it was bound to catch up, and last year's deficit was unfortunate, but a gain in the result of trying to keep the mill rate too low.

In comparison to other towns of comparable size this province, St. Paul's mill rate is one of the lowest, and it goes without saying that some areas of progress are also much lower. We hear of 75, 80 mills being assessed in other municipalities without too much complaint, because the people realize that if they want and get service, it has to be paid for. The less you pay, the less you get.

And despite of the fact that the budget announced last week was supposed to be hopefully a balanced one, there is very little chance that there will not be a big deficit again next year, if adequate services are to be provided.

Regrettable Loss

It is regrettable that the Jaycee Teen Age Car Parade is losing its appeal to sponsors and is getting to little support.

This has happened on the national scene where some of the big sponsors are dropping out, provincial and local where a disastrous lack of interest is threatening to scuttle the promotion.

The Jaycees in St. Paul have been sponsoring this event for almost ten years now with relatively good success, but if the support is lacking on all levels, there is not much chance for its survival and they have no alternative but to abandon it.

The interest these young car rodents stimulated has made many young drivers conscious of the requirements for good driving and the preparation for the contest taught them how to drive in safe and efficient manner.

Driving with its complexities of the day, requires the best of training when all the good drivers are vulnerable to the hazards of the road and accidents develop even when the utmost of attention may be exercised.

We hope something can be done to save the teen car parade.

TRICKY DRIVING IN TEEN PARADE

Competition in the Jaycee car parade at the end was tricky and delicate. Here one of the contestants tries to steer between two rows of balls. But find it is a difficult task. Credit: Television member of the Jaycees is a sponsored the parade again in the future.

Christmas Lighting

It may sound a little early to start discussing Christmas lighting for St. Paul at this time, but it isn't and there is going to be any action, now is the hour to plan it.

Following recommendations by the Chamber of Commerce last winter after the poor showing on St. Paul streets during the Yuletide season, a committee assigned to the project reported at the last meeting with details and costs.

To adequately light the town, an expenditure of $5,000 is needed according to the report. And this was not sound out of line. It could be worked on a five year plan or paid all in one year.

Although the majority is in favor, the problem of cost is financing. It was suggested that perhaps this could be done by donations from the business people who it was alleged would benefit most by lighting up the town.

However, a second suggestion makes more sense. Why assess just a few for an essential commodity that will benefit everyone, not only the business men on main street, but those on other streets and the general public as a whole.

It was proposed that this should be brought up to the town council for consideration of a special assessment on business tax over a period of five years to pay in part for the installation of the fixtures necessary to embellish the town.

We know there is an outpouring of opinion and asking for financial help is going to be difficult. But the fact remains that town beautification is to a certain extent primarily the responsibility of the public and the most equitable way of achieving this is to have everyone share through our taxation structure and not put the burden on only a few.

Family Life Education

Results of surveys made in this town and district by members of community organizations on family life education and family counselling services indicate that there are a great many people who are in need of help.

Parish priests, ministers, doctors, preventive social services, welfare officers, all have been involved in cases where counselling is needed, and although they have tried to be helpful it is beyond their scope to do justice to the demands because of lack of time and the fact that they are not specifically trained for this type of work.

The need for family counsel became evident through research by members of certain organizations in this town who have undertaken the responsibility to look into the matter and formed into a Social Resources Committee.

Results of research, meetings to discuss the matter revealed that family life education and counselling could help a great number of people.

The time has come to make a decision and for this a public forum is being called by the St. Paul Resources Committee for Wednesday May 28th (tonight) 8:00 p.m. at the Racette School cafeteria.

They want to find out the reaction of the public and are inviting all adults, teenagers who are interested in participating in the discussions to arrive at a decision and get opinions whether or not the counselling services are desirable and feasible in St. Paul.

Mr. W. Fletcher, Counsellor for the Family Service Association of Edmonton will take part in the panel along with the Social Resources Committee to explain the project and to answer any questions on the subject.

Your opinions and suggestions are urgently required, so plan to attend.

The driver, Rene Filbeck and Rene Gosselin, pit crew for a start they saw four races on Sunday.

Council Briefs

Byline 11 received three and every in light of the fact that the town council is the only body that can make decisions on the town's future.

A request from the Chamber of Commerce to close all a year long at main street for a job was also on the 16th received.

Sections of paving which were recommended last year as an interim measure will be completed by the end of the year. The paving will be done in sections of 100 feet each.

Questions of water meters in the town of St. Paul are being dealt with by the town council. The town council is the only body that can make decisions on the town's future.

Mr. Gerry Desautels, Manager, St. Paul Savings And Credit Union

History

Our Credit Union, like others in this country, started in 1900. It wasn't until 1910 that the movement became a reality in this town. They were one of our first predecessors.

During the winter of 1900-1901 a small group of dedicated men met regularly to study the movement founded by Alfred Doherty, and make plans for the launching of their own Credit Union.

The Charter Members of our Credit Union were: Pierre Barot, Jacques Barot, Jean Tremblay, Edmond Doherty, Arthur Gaudin, Edmond Desautels, Wilfred Doherty, Thomas Frigon, Jacques Doherty, Edmond Duchesneau and Walter Lambert, who each deposited $5.00 in order to launch the Credit Union with a Capital of $250.00.

After receipt of the Charter, which is the eighth round in this Province, they elected the following:

BOARD OF DIRECTORS:

Art Gaudin, President; J. Barot, Vice President, and DIRECTORS Edmond Duchesneau, Walter Lambert and Thomas Frigon.

From among these Thomas Frigon was elected Treasurer and Walter Lambert, Secretary.

The first Credit Committee consisted of J. Barot, Edmond Desautels and J. Doherty.

The members of the first Supervisory Committee were Pierre Barot, Albert Tremblay and J. O. Maurice.

The business was carried on in the Rectory every Sunday after High Mass and Sunday afternoon. The maximum loan at that time was $100.00 per member.

Among those whose applications for membership were accepted at the first meeting were: J. Barot, J. Doherty, and J. O. Maurice.

By the end of 1901 the Treasury was awarded a salary of $2.00 per month, and by mid 1902 it was up to $5.00 per month.

In February 1902, the office of the Credit Union was moved to the residence of Thomas Frigon, where it remained until September, 1906, at which time he returned to Edmonton and was succeeded by George Joly who was manager until October of 1905, when the present manager, Gerry Desautels took over.

In February 1904, after having moved the original office off the site, a new building was completed, and was occupied until the move to the new and larger quarters.

The business has now grown to where we have a staff of seven, a volume of business of ten million dollars per year and assets of over 215 million dollars.

Histoire

Notre Caisse comme toutes les autres dans le pays doit ses origines au mouvement pour l'épargne sociale au Canada. Cet homme est le Reverend Père O. Fournier.

Un groupe d'hommes intéressés passa l'hiver de 1900 à discuter et à discuter le mouvement pour l'épargne sociale au Canada. Ils se réunirent à la messe à la paroisse de St. Paul.

Les fondateurs de notre Caisse Populaire sont: Pierre Barot, Jacques Barot, Jean Tremblay, Edmond Doherty, Arthur Gaudin, Edmond Desautels, Wilfred Doherty, Thomas Frigon, Jacques Doherty et Edmond Duchesneau, qui ont chacun déposé $5.00 pour lancer la Caisse Populaire avec un capital de $250.00.

Après avoir reçu la charte, qui est la huitième ronde dans cette Province, ils élurent le Bureau de Direction: Président Arthur Gaudin, Vice-Président Jacques Barot et Edmond Doherty, Edmond Duchesneau, Walter Lambert et Thomas Frigon.

Les Directeurs ont alors élu Thomas Frigon Trésorier et Walter Lambert Secrétaire.

Le premier Comité de Crédit comprenait Joseph Barot, J. Edmond Desautels et Joseph Doherty.

Les membres du premier Comité de Surveillance étaient: Pierre Barot, Albert Tremblay et J. O. Maurice.

Le Bureau de la Caisse était situé au Presbytère et il y avait une messe après la grande messe à six heures le dimanche.

La limite d'emprunt en ce temps là était de $100.00 par membre.

Parmi ceux dont l'application de membre fut acceptée: Pierre Barot, Jacques Barot, Jean Tremblay, Edmond Doherty, Arthur Gaudin, Edmond Desautels, Wilfred Doherty, Thomas Frigon, Jacques Doherty et Edmond Duchesneau, qui ont chacun déposé $5.00 pour lancer la Caisse Populaire avec un capital de $250.00.

The Credit Union Movement in Alberta can be justifiably proud of the establishment of this credit union, its officers and members, have made towards making the economic needs of the many families within St. Paul and the surrounding district. Very Tough Job Nikely

Handled

The economic news inside and outside this week's federal budget, shows with devastating clarity that the traditional tax-and-credit levers for regulating growth and prices aren't enough to fight inflation.

For this reason Finance Minister Benson is to be commended for attacking the inflationary fires directly. By hurrying some tariff cuts and by delaying depreciation allowances for commercial construction where activity is fastest, some price pressures should be eased.

Consider these three facts of budgetary life: 1) The economy as a whole and with the federal tax take) is moving up at a whiplash pace not seen since the boom of 1965-66. 2) Inflation is persistent, pervasive and serious. Wholesale prices are advancing three times as fast as in 1967 and most of 1968. 3) The new boom is not spread evenly across the country. Unemployment in the opening months of this year was 10.5% in the Atlantic region and 8.4% in Quebec as against 3.7% in Ontario. Business investment is leaping ahead 20% in Ontario but is up only 5% in B.C. and not up at all in Quebec or the Prairies.

These developments make it plain that for some time to come the classic slowdown remedies of still higher taxes and still tighter money can only go so far—and may even spread some new poisons. Taxes and interest rates are costs. What increases costs, increases prices. Inflated price leads inevitably to big new wage demands in areas of high activity and further depresses already depressed areas. Hence the new policies that will attempt to cool some inflationary fevers without slowing activity where jobs totals lag.

Revolt in The Kindergarten

Much of the trouble in schools and colleges may be traceable to the fondness of parents. Many parents are unable not to spoil the child. By the time the child gets old enough to go to school, to college, to university, to vote, he is too old to punish.

Being too old to punish means that he can get away with almost anything on the campus or elsewhere. Sometimes he gets away, literally, with murder.

These comments are not in any way contradictory to the statement of Royal Canadian Mounted Police officials and others that much of the disorder is the work of malignant interests out to destroy government and injure the nation. Although the important malefactors are not necessarily the instigators of the trouble, they are certainly willing at all times to help it along.

If parents exercise some discipline in the early years, if they refrain from criticizing teachers and others who are trying to run a good school, if it is possible that many school troubles that start out perhaps as larks may never go beyond the lark stage.

Demand Growing For Night Shopping

First results of a survey released by the National Retailer's Institute, The Financial Post says, indicate that the long-drawn-out struggle for non-restrictive shopping hours is far from ended.

Generally, well-established downtown merchants prefer to limit shopping to traditional daytime hours. On the other hand, the new breed of mass merchandisers (sometimes called discounters) locates in suburban plazas and fight for the right to provide night shopping.

Preliminary investigations point to the following conclusions: Consumers prefer to shop outside the traditional nine-to-five hours. As an example, Edmontonians voted 69% in favor of no control over hours. Retail merchants are losing business by their failure to provide more convenient shopping times.

As of 1967, women made up one-third of the labor force and also one-third of all married women were working. The nine-to-five traditional hours for retailing outlets are therefore not convenient for a larger percentage of housewives to shop.

ONLY ON SUNDAY?

A great roast . . . hot from the oven.
That's good eating. But the kind that many budgets can afford "Only On Sunday" — in 1949 that same roast cost you just 49¢ a pound TODAY $1.29 a pound. Over twice as much, and that's quite a difference! But here's a surprising fact — in that same period the cost of electricity required to cook a five pound roast has dropped from an average of 25¢ to just 11¢. That's less than half the 1949 level, or from an average of 57¢/kwh to 263¢/kwh.

Reminiscing about the "good old days"? Well, here's one happy fact to keep in mind:

*"Now more than ever . . .
electricity is your BEST household bargain!"*

Post Office Lunch: Two Million Dollars!

It could cost the Post Office an extra $2 million a year if all its 10,000 letter carriers decided to lunch back at their postal stations. That, Hyman Solomon says, is the Financial Post's preliminary estimate of postal officials following the decision of an adjudicator in a test case involving five mailmen. The disputes involved traveling time. The Financial Post says. The letter carriers claimed that under their agreement the Post Office had to pay them for the time it took to get back to the route after lunch. The Post Office, under its new straight-through delivery system, thought the carriers had to travel on their own time if they wanted to eat at the postal station.

Power Abused

Brian Davies is one Canadian who knows what the supremacy of Parliament is all about. To critics, textbooks, and to politicians on noble occasions, it is the fount of our freedom and the guarantor of all our liberties. To Mr. Davies it is something quite different.

He is the executive secretary of the New Brunswick Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals and the chief instigator of the international furor against the hunting of baby seals in the Gulf of St. Lawrence. As such he is an object of hostility to seal-hunters and to their representatives in Parliament.

The vicious harassment to which these spokesmen subjected Mr. Davies in the Commons Fisheries Committee has already been described in detail in The Montreal Star. An article last Saturday in The Star's Weekend Magazine recalls the incident, and records the horror of Mr. Davies when he discovered how fragile were the rights he thought he had as a Canadian.

The members of the committee who carried out the attack on Mr. Davies used the very powers and privileges which have always been considered an essential part of our parliamentary system. They were able to employ the cruelest innuendo without fear of recourse because they are protected by parliamentary immunity. They could introduce unprovoked rumor into the testimony and resort to blow-by-blow methods of questioning because they were not required to abide by the same rules of evidence as a court.

There are sound reasons why members of Parliament should have these privileges. As representatives of the people, they must have the right to speak freely in Parliament. Since Parliamentary committees are supposed to be seeking information, not conducting trials, the legal rules of evidence are inappropriate.

However, Canadians like to assume that the people they elect to Parliament are reasonable men who will use their powers to uphold freedom, not to abuse it. If they fail that trust and abuse their privilege, the ultimate recourse is to vote them out of office.

That power is scant consolation in this case, since the members of Parliament who attacked Mr. Davies were no doubt confident that their constituents would approve. But there is hope in the fact that the end result of the inquiry has been the opposite of that intended. Mr. Davies has emerged with reputation unscathed; it is his inquisitors who have been demeaned.

Harry Ramsay was strolling down the street one day when a panhandler approached.
 "Got a quarter for a cup of coffee?"
 "Coffee is only fifteen cents," Ramsay retorted.
 "I'm keeping a woman," the man replied.

OVER FOUR TIMES AND NOT A SCRATCH

Here is the spectacular rollover of Joyce Dallas in her 22 at St. Paul's racing track, on Sunday August 10th. In the 14th lap of the last and feature race, Joyce's car flipped over four times, but he escaped without a scratch. Thanks to the safety features which are necessary in such a racing.

Stock Cars Display Versatility At Track

Last Sunday afternoon was a perfect day for stock cars, and the fans at St. Paul's racing track really enjoyed the race, and the stock cars displayed their versatility at the track.

The last race a feature race of 24 laps, which was won by Larry Dallas, Jr., in a 1967 Ford Mustang. The race was a close one, with several cars running side-by-side for much of the race.

Red Cross Blood Donor Clinic

A Red Cross blood donor clinic has been announced for September 10th.

The campaign organizers wish to release this date ahead of time to give all organizations a chance to plan support as has been given in the past.

This kind of support is deeply appreciated and the Red Cross is looking forward to your co-operation to make the clinic successful.

Talk it up with your executive now and let them know what your plans are.

See if your organization can win the challenge cup sponsored by the St. Paul Chamber of Commerce. The Jaycees now hold it, but many others are running out of red blood and you can take it away.

I Hunt Like A Gentleman - Do You?

The Alberta Fish and Game Association's "I Hunt Like A Gentleman - Do You" campaign is multi-purpose.

It is designed to remind the sportsman of Alberta to who will soon be taking to the fields that when they hunt they have responsibilities.

1. To respect the rights of the land owner whose guests they are, while hunting on private land, closing gates, pickup groups, respect of property.

2. To remind sportsmen when they are in the fields to respect their fellow hunters in regards to safety, good hunting manners, sportsmanship and respect other persons and their property.

3. The program is to remind hunters of the principle of hunting. Hunting is a wholesome outdoor recreation and the reward of getting the game is not the only motive. The sport of hunting is not driving around in a car, shooting out of the window and being a vandal. It is to take a few minutes to spend the sport of hunting for those who do obey. But fair chase.

To encourage the reporting of acts of vandalism and infractions of the Game Act of Alberta Fish and Game Association offers rewards up to $100 for information leading to the arrest and conviction of offenders. Report all acts to your local Fish and Wildlife officer or RCMP.

Since there are over 100,000 persons in the field hunting in the Province of Alberta, with a relatively small number of enforcement officers, acts of vandalism, illegal killing of animals and Game Act infractions are increasing and make it extremely difficult for the law abiding hunter. The Alberta Fish and Game Association hopes that those who have been abusing this privilege will have a second thoughts about their unsportsmanlike conduct.

Large quantities of the bumper stickers have been distributed to the 110 member clubs of the Alberta Association for distribution to their members.

Fettered Style

Prime Minister Trudeau is loosing the hard way that certain types of protesters, particularly when ganged up into a mob, are entirely uninterested in reasoning or dialogue.

The Vancouver instance demonstrated that Trudeau can talk until he is blue in the face about dialogue but the response of the violent protesters is merely shouted insults and a refusal to listen to anything said by anybody - including their own spokesman.

This suggests that circumvention for the office of Prime Minister may inhibit our splendidly uninhibited PM and there will be no more confrontations with rowdy protesters. Most Canadians will hope that Canadian Prime Ministers will not everywhere where to be surrounded by a host of armed guards and be fenced off from the people as is the inevitable fate of U.S. Presidents.

Trudeau himself was at times at the Canadian National Exhibition in Toronto last week. This would be a development much to be regretted by all who are anxious to preserve the amenities of civilized living.

A lot of destruction. Marie-Elliott of the engineering staff at General Motors of Canada in Tulsa visits with upper management while Bill Murphy, president of the company, visits with the staff. Each day, and each night, selected at random from supplier shipments are put in this strength-testing machine that simulates body stress. Tests are required to withstand a 5,000 lb. load and regularly exceed this figure by 40 to 60 per cent.

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 3, 1968

Uniformed Public

A Gallup poll survey conducted for an educational group in the United States has revealed public attitudes that are both hopeful and disquieting. While there is a high general level of interest in education, the survey found the public to be terribly uninformed. In addition, the public's comments on criteria for "good schools" showed a low level of sophistication.

Cited most frequently as an element of good schools, for example, was "qualified teachers." Yet, the survey noted, "there is little understanding of what is meant by a 'qualified teacher.'" Other important elements cited were discipline (49 per cent) it was not strict enough and physical facilities. But when it came to the matter of increased school taxes to pay for good teaching and better facilities, 49 per cent said they would not support such measures.

There were, on the other hand, some refreshing results. Three out of every four people — and four out of every five parents with children now attending public schools — said they would like to have a child take up public school teaching as a career. The survey was able to conclude that the teaching profession "has probably never been held in higher esteem."

What was disconcerting however, was the lack of information of a public which purports to be vitally interested in education. The survey found that people were "so lacking in objective ways of judging school achievements that little, if any, pressure is exerted by them to make improvement or is likely to be exerted until they are more knowledgeable in this area."

The complaint is not peculiar to the U.S. In our own province the push for educational reforms has suffered because not enough people have taken the initiative to become informed about the problems of our schools and the many benefits which could be derived through changes already proposed. The fault is not the public's alone. Local school boards and the provincial department of education should step up their information efforts. The resultant public support could greatly help education officials achieve their goals.

Packers Stand Behind Beef Price Increase

Canadian meat packers showed up well during the recent furor over high retail beef prices, according to Food in Canada magazine. Many consumer groups attacked the packer as the one responsible for the big jump in prices but a strong industry public relations campaign presented the true picture.

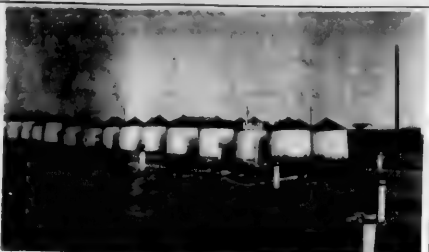

The real problem? That of supply and demand. Shortages of fed cattle pushed price on the hoof to record levels and the benefits went to the farmers. The rising per capita consumption of beef, coupled with summer demand and a general decline in fed cattle numbers, all combined to create a significant jump in retail prices.

Many consumers have expressed surprise at the low profit margins of meat packers. Despite some boycott talk, demand for beef remained strong; even if consumers aren't happy about prices, they will pay. Says H. A. Olson, federal agriculture minister, "He feels consumers would be wise to treat current producers' price increase as an investment in their future because farmers will be using their increased income to expand herds and build new and better facilities."

Wages And Prices

Average hourly earnings in Canadian manufacturing industry in May this year climbed again to a record of $2.77, an increase of 7.8 per cent over the $2.57 of a year earlier.

In the same 12-month period the Consumer Price Index advanced 4.7 per cent.

ANTICIPATING STORAGE PROBLEM

As harvesting is well along progressively with the good weather of the past week, storage problems seem to be anticipated and suppliers are building granaries in abundance, just in case. With the expected increase in the way it is sold and in price, they may come in handy to store millions of bushels across the western provinces.

Good Luck Teen Club

One night last week a group of boisterous and enthusiastic teen agers got together to form a club. The decor and the formalities were not as one would normally expect, but the principles of democracy nevertheless ruled amid some of the confusion and a council was duly elected to administer the newly formed teen town.

What was noteworthy was the genuine enthusiasm of these teen agers to try and organize something for themselves and the sense of independence they have.

Although they are willing to accept some type of supervision or advice from the adults with whom they are keen to co-operate, they left no doubt that they were not to get involved in doing something for themselves.

And this is as it should be. We wish them all the luck in the world for their efforts. Success is not a passing fancy and that they will have a continuing success in their organization.

Alcohol Is Also A Drug

In spite of, or perhaps because of, all the articles and television programs on drugs, most parents have evidently missed the first point regarding drugs and the young. Not the only point, but the first one.

The more most adults worry about marijuana, the more their hypocrisy shows.

Many young people are aware of the dangers of marijuana. They have also seen the dangers of alcohol. They consider them both to be mood-modifying drugs. One is not "alcohol" and the other "a drug". Both are drugs. Many have experienced both, know the differences, know the similarities.

Then what? Along come their parents, anxious, puzzled, righteous, to lecture the young about the "terrible dangers" of marijuana, which the parents have never experienced. In the next room is a bar stocked with powerful drugs in quinine bottles.

The hypocrisy is so loud that it drowns out the parents' words.

And that is the first point. It must be dealt with before there can be useful discussion, between adults and the young, on mood modifiers whether inhaled or imbibed.

Price Tag Talks 1970 Cars

It will be a easy to tell the 1970 cars from the 1969s, although this is not the year for a dramatic model change.

The price tags on the new cars will be higher. General Motors of Canada Ltd., traditional pacesetter for pricing in the Canadian automotive industry, came out with an increase of $177, or 2.6%, in the average list price of the basic car. No one doubts that the other major companies will also boost their prices for the same reasons - recent rises in the cost of labor and materials.

If manufacturers follow the three-year cycle for sweeping model changes, 1971 will be the year for substantial redesign. But manufacturers are losing their enthusiasm for drastic facelifting, in the face of steadily rising costs. They may go to a four-year cycle or even content themselves with minor changes on a no particular schedule.

Gravel On St. Vincent Road

We were pleased to hear that finally some gravel will be placed on St. Paul-St. Vincent road north. Why this is being done at the end of the year when the rains are almost over and freeze up is eminent is hard to understand. It is not as if there has been much rain practical in early spring to afford a measure of comfortable travelling through the summer instead of sloshing through mud.

We hope this gravel will not preclude plans for pavement in the future which is the only answer. The people of St. Paul and district who use this road are still looking forward to more "concrete" action.

Annette Szegithy Exchanges Vows

The St. Paul Cathedral was the scene of a lovely wedding at 10 p.m. on Saturday July 27th, when Annette Szegithy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Szegithy, of St. Paul, became the bride of the Rev. Canon John Chisholm, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Chisholm, of St. Paul.

The bride, a graduate of the University of Alberta, was accompanied by her father, and the groom by his brother, Rev. Canon John Chisholm, of St. Paul.

The wedding ceremony was celebrated at the cathedral, and the bride and groom were joined in the holy sacrament of matrimony by Rev. Canon John Chisholm.

The bride and groom were accompanied by a large wedding party, and the ceremony was a most beautiful one.

The late Mike Camusso, beloved father of three, thought safety belts were for kids.

Along the river every year, the water level rises and the surrounding area is flooded. This is a natural process, but it can be managed. The water level can be controlled by the construction of a dam or a levee. This is a costly process, but it can be worth the investment. New Faces On Council

The town and school elections are over, the speculation came to an end with the election of new mayor and three new councillors. There was also one newcomer on the Glen Avon board of trustees.

Admittedly the new mayor, in a sense, is not new to town administration having come up through the council ranks with nine years of experience which is bound to provide continuity, perhaps the reason why he received such a large majority over his opposition.

However, his position as Mayor will be much different than that of a councillor and the future of the town to some extent, although he has only one vote, will be determined by the way he can handle and influence his council for the best interest of the town.

On the council we have three new faces; councillors who will have to take some time to familiarize themselves with town administration of the past in order to temper sound judgement. With three old veterans still remaining along with the mayor we don't expect any sudden changes of policy, but look forward to the future for legislation on some of the suggestions given at the pre-election political forum.

The government program will have to be looked at closely and continued. Recreation should receive some consideration if the wishes of the people are to be met.

It was a good election campaign, stirring up some keen interest and proved to some extent that ratepayers are still interested in the affairs of their town.

Even Tobogganing Can Be Hazardous

Injuries caused by winter sport activities will soon again face many Canadian physicians. Snow sledding, an inexpensive, family-oriented sport is bringing its increasing share of fractures, lacerations and sprains, reports The Medical Post.

The government program will have to be looked at closely and continued. Recreation should receive some consideration if the wishes of the people are to be met.

Low Property Fire Losses During Fire Prev. Week

Do fire losses decrease during a time of high promotional propaganda? The Provincial Fire Commissioner says "yes". In addition, 1 believe there is a carry over value in that property owners are more receptive to fire prevention and fire protection improvements. There were 37 fires and a $21,190.00 fire loss reported for Alberta during Fire Prevention Week; whereas, the average weekly losses are 108 fires and a $280,000 property loss based upon 1968 statistics.

Last we were lulled into a false sense of security, we must also be aware that there were two fire deaths and one injury in Alberta during Fire Prevention Week. The fact that the fire deaths occurred outside of buildings may raise the question that even the best fire departments and the most complete and effective fire inspection program, could not prevent these unfortunate deaths. This leads to the conclusion that being alert to fire is a personal problem that may sometimes be shared but cannot be completely delegated.

Monored At Visit Of French Ambassador

Receiving the visit of an ambassador from any country to St. Paul is an unusual event and one that focuses a certain amount of pride and attention.

We were pleased that His Excellency Pierre Marc Sraud, ambassador of France, chose to come to St. Paul, last week, after turning down a number of other cities in preference for St. Paul. Although his visit was short and a whirlwind affair, the officials of the town of St. Paul and a good number of citizens of all ethnic origins joined in to welcome him.

The French books that he left behind in the library and all of the schools should be well appreciated and read by those who have the opportunity to do so.

At the banquet in the Seminary, His Excellency Bishop O'Connor delivered an address befitting the occasion. He was noteworthy for his fine remarks on the spirit of co-operation which exists between the ethnic groups of this town. We have gone a long way from two and three decades ago when there was bitter rivalry which has now dwindled down to isolated incidents only with the majority of the people accepting and learning to live together in the spirit of unity.

We were a little disappointed at the remarks of the Ambassador, expecting perhaps to hear some explanations or at least entertaining some discussion on the Quebec-France-Ottawa relations which have caused controversy in political circles which has become an issue of concern to many Canadians.

He refused to answer any direct questions on this subject, but his Consul, Mr. Marcelle Olivier agreed that he would be willing to come to St. Paul anytime at an organized public forum to answer questions. We hope this will be born in mind for the future and the invitation made to hold the French Consul at his word in order to clear the situation, if this is possible.

New Hope For Farmers

When the heavy snows come a few weeks ago on top of the consistent rains we have been having this fall, all hopes for the 1969 crops were lost.

But this last week, a change for the better is taking place. Although there is no hope of getting a bumper crop, the nice weather is at least giving the farmers a chance to pick up some of the wet stuff for feed and bedding. Some of them are even straight combining, which is something unusual in this country, but is one of getting something off the land.

The farmers have been complaining this fall and justly so. It is heart breaking to see a year's work go down the drain and all of us in St. Paul can sympathize with them because our economic destiny hangs in the balance along with theirs.

Bud Olsen the Minister of Agriculture was in the west this week, looking at the situation first hand and the impression he received from the farmers of the Peace River Country, who are worst off than we are, should convince him that some sort of assistance is imperative for the farmers and for the economic welfare of rural areas.

Cattlemen Favor Grain

Finishing

With labor costs in the beef-cattle industry soaring, Alberta cattlemen face a basic problem: how to prepare stock for market most economically.

The answer: finish them on grain. And with about 90% of all Alberta market cattle now being finished on grain, it's little wonder the number of private commercial feedlots is steadily increasing.

Cattle marketers estimate that about half of all Alberta grain-finished market animals are products of commercial feedlots.

Way Off Beam

We came home the other night and found a letter on the porch that we believed at first was just another piece of advertising, but it turned out to be some kind of a satirical publication aimed against family life and society.

We must admit it was well written and did amuse us to some extent, but the basic thoughts and ideas which had motivated its publication left a lot to be desired.

The authenticity of it is completely void because of its anonymous nature. As far as we are concerned anyone who hasn't got the "guts" to stand openly behind his own ideas and convictions is not much of a man or woman and deserves very little attention.

We can picture this person as being a chronic complainer who is never satisfied with anything, probably doesn't belong to any organization, never does a thing for the community but sets himself up as a judge of what everybody else is trying to do honestly and voluntarily.

Certainly there are many areas of our recreational activities that need improving, the streets need maintenance, money could be diverted from one project to another, all of which depends on the opinion of the moment or the opinions of the perpetuation of society. We certainly cannot agree completely on everything, but as a whole we feel this community is a good one, even though it is found provincially, nationally and internationally.

Our suggestion to this person, man or woman, whoever it is, would be to participate more in community organizations where they can bring these problems up constructively for intelligent discussion in order to at least make an effort at improving what seems to be wrong.

And this person could do a lot more by offering his or her services personally in the cause of all the things that were complained about. Hiding in the back and publishing these types of letters attacking certain factions of our society is a despicable approach and one that leads to nothing but hard feelings.

An Impressive Politician

Regardless of what your politics are, one thing must be recognized about Real Caouette, the leader of the Ralliement Caouette in Quebec, is that he is a dynamic man.

He stopped briefly in St. Paul last week, guest at a reception to speak briefly on his way to a rally in Bonnyville.

Mr. Caouette is probably one of the few "top box" orators left, reminiscent of the past, who can captivate his audience to complete attention with expressive gestures describing every word he says.

People may not agree entirely with some of his theories, but they must admit that he is interesting to listen to and some of his statements make good sense as well.

Of course, he is most impressive in French which flows from his tongue like honey. He is equally eloquent in English and speaks the language with a French accent that does not deviate from the professionalization of his political manner.

A Chrysler dealer in private life, the Quebec member of parliament is an engaging conversationalist and he enjoyed himself talking small shop with one of the local dealers here and others who were fortunate enough to sit at his table.

It is always a pleasure to meet a national leader regardless of his political affiliations to get an impression and hear views directly from the "horse's mouth" so to speak. We noted that there were many Liberals present... and that is as it should be.

We don't know what kind of success the Quebec Social Crediters will have in Alberta in their effort to get more federal support, but it was a pleasure to meet Mr. Caouette, nevertheless.

Poverty, Theme of C.W.L. Meeting

Over 100 members of the C.W.L. met at the St. Paul Community Centre last night for a meeting on the theme of poverty. The speaker was Mrs. M. J. McLeod, who spoke on the theme of poverty in Canada.

Mrs. McLeod spoke on the theme of poverty in Canada, and the C.W.L. members discussed the problem of poverty in the community.

The C.W.L. members discussed the problem of poverty in the community, and the speaker emphasized the need for action.
